NEW YORK DEFEATS PITTSBURGH, 4 TO 2!

Coolidge Promises Further Cut In Taxes

PROGRAM OF PRESIDENT CALLS FOR ECONOMY

Adopts 'Less Government In Business' as Slogan of Administration

By GEORGE E. DURO
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Receiving one of the 1920 Republican slogans of "less government in business," President Coolidge told 4,000 members of the National Association of Retail Druggists at the White House here today that it will be his constant aim to carry out this idea and at the same time he promises continued efforts by the administration to further reduce taxes.

The druggists called at the White House to pay their respects to the chief executive and he spoke to them briefly.

"Just as business more nearly approximates to the ideal of service and mutual consideration to the community," the president told his audience, "so will the federal government keep pace with a gradual elimination of existing restrictions and supervision."

Come in Contact
"Under our complex social and industrial order," he said, "it is inevitable that government and business shall come a good deal in contact. It should be the aim of governmental administration to make these contacts as few as possible and to reduce their burdens and annoyances to the minimum, which is consistent with conservation of the broadest public interest."

"On the whole, business will meet less and less interference by the agencies of the government just as it more nearly approximates to the ideal of usefulness of the community. We are all entitled to a sense of gratification that business is now constantly progressing towards the best realization of this important fact."

Economy Pledge
Mr. Coolidge's reference to his tax and economy program was brief.

"I pledge my efforts to continue to secure economy of administration that there may be reduction of taxation and harmony in our foreign relations that there may be peace and prosperity," he said.

The president lauded the druggists as representative business men for the great strides that business, generally, is making away from sharp dealing and selfish policies.

Flyers to Leave on Final Lap Tomorrow
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Happy in the thought they had successfully conquered the seas and lands of the world, America's "round-the-world flyers" rested here today. Tomorrow they will leave for Seattle on the final lap to make official the circumnavigation of the globe. Back home at Clover field, where they hoped off on their globe-girdling adventure March 17, the flyers early today tuned up the three giant Douglas cruisers for the last dash. They expect to hop off early Thursday.

The six airmen planned to rest in seclusion a greater portion of today, following a brief visit to the field to inspect their ships.

Coroner's Jury Holds Two for Poison Plot

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Sept. 24.—A coroner's jury, sitting in a double inquest into the deaths of Wilford Sweetin and Mrs. Anna Hight at Ina, near here, today officially closed the investigation into Jefferson county's poison plot by holding Mrs. Sweetin and her "love mate," Rev. Lawrence M. Hight, jockey-pastor, on charges of murder. The formal finding of the jury was that Mrs. Hight came to her death from arsenic administered by her husband and that Sweetin met a similar fate at the hands of his wife, Elsie.

Montreal Shrine Cures Disease of Spine, Is Claim

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 24.—An amazing story of the cure of an ailment with which he has been afflicted for years, during his worship at St. Joseph's Oratory, on the Mountain Side of Montreal, was told here by Victor J. Dixon, of Hion. Dixon said that he had suffered spinal disorders for years. He entered the Shrine of St. Joseph's Oratory to worship during the benediction. One hour later he emerged completely cured, he says.

Dixon told news at the shrine that he felt a new surge of life creep through his veins as he knelt in worship. When he left the oratory he discarded a cane which he claims to have carried for years.

LOVE FIGHT LEADS TO KILLING

Society Woman Slain by Accident Is Story Told By Accused Man

PASADENA, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Clifford R. Hunn, 50-year-old welfare worker and society woman and wife of a wealthy Chicago ink manufacturer, was accidentally shot in her home because she interfered in a love affair of her friend, F. R. Gibson, retired contractor, Harry Garbutt, alleged Chicago underworld character, accused of the woman's murder, told police here today.

Asserting Mrs. Hunn was angered because Gibson was engaged to a beautiful Los Angeles girl, she quarreled with the contractor at her home last Friday night, following a dinner at which Gibson and Garbutt were present.

Claims Accident
Hearing Mrs. Hunn and Gibson arguing, Garbutt said he interfered after Gibson struck Mrs. Hunn over the head with a hammer. Gibson then attacked him and Garbutt, so his story was told, whipped out a gun. In a struggle for the weapon, it was accidentally discharged, killing Mrs. Hunn.

Miss Kirkhoff, 24-year-old girl found with Garbutt in a Los Angeles hotel, where Garbutt was arrested, was held today as a material witness in the case. She told police she was "married" three weeks ago in San Diego to Garbutt, but later she discovered the marriage was a fake. The girl was divorced a year ago from B. L. Brown of Hastings, Neb.

Pershing Will Draw Pay While Retired

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—General John J. Pershing, who retired as general of the armies of the United States on September 12, will continue to draw his full salary of $22,000 a year in retirement, under a ruling handed down by Comptroller General McCall today. The decision is regarded as an important one in army circles, as usually the net retirement pay is fixed at 75 per cent of active pay, with no allowances.

Ban on Liquor Into Philippines Confirmed

MANILA, Sept. 24.—Confirmation of the department of state's ban on the importation of intoxicating liquor into the Philippine islands was received here today, creating a mild panic throughout the city. Liquor dealers were compelled to close their doors because of the crush of anxious buyers besieging the premises.

LA FOLLETTE SCORED BY FOSTER

Workers' Party Candidate For President Gives Views on Rival

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

EN ROUTE TO SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 24.—He sat down alone in a Pullman seat; there were no crowds to greet him at the station along the way; he had no retinue of secretaries or newspaper men with him; he wore a soft collar and a black slouch hat and a threadbare suit of clothes; nobody recognized him except the writer, for he was William Z. Foster, candidate for the presidency on the ticket of the Workers' Party of America—an avowed believer in communism.

There had always been in my mind a burning curiosity to find out what the "Z" stood for. It was a good opportunity to learn the answer to that and a dozen other questions which the advocacy of communism by a sane man naturally arouses.

How It Happened
"I put the 'Z' in there," he said with a smile, "just because I wanted to be different. It doesn't stand for anything. I just tacked it on one day."

There is much that's different about the man William Z. Foster. His viewpoint on the whole political situation is different. He is making a 15,000-mile speaking tour all by himself and he comes in contact with a rumbling, dissatisfied element and is a keen observer himself of human nature and economic conditions.

"What about La Follette?" was the next question.
"Oh, he's just a demagogue," replied Foster. "He represents the capitalist system just as much as do the other candidates. Only he reflects the sentiment of the little capitalist, the element in the employ of the employer class. But ultimately they all merge into the capitalist regime. La Follette, to my mind, is the best friend of the capitalist class in America. He is like the Socialists of European countries who proved the main obstacle to the success of communism."

"Examine some of La Follette's proposals. Why they are tame compared to the proposals of men like Stinnes in Germany or the industrialists of other European countries. I should hardly classify La Follette as of the left. He is closer to the right."

"Do you think he will poll a big vote?"
"Yes, I do. And we are watching with great interest what he is doing, for we believe the third party which he has introduced is bound to stay, that it means the gradual breaking up of the Republican and Democratic parties. I haven't any doubt, however, that if La Follette's group ever does get a majority of the voters, the big interests will find some way to control his movement. It is inevitable."

"What do you think will be the outcome of the election?"
"I can't see how Davis can carry many states except the south and I think Coolidge is strong in the east, but my feeling is that the election will be thrown into the House of Representatives for decision. After that no man can be sure what will happen."

TALKS ON EXCLUSION

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 24.—The State Federation of Labor, meeting in twenty-fifth annual convention here, was expected to go on record as opposed to any modification of the immigration law excluding Japanese from the United States, following the address here today of V. S. McClatchy, former Sacramento newspaper publisher and campaigner for Japanese exclusion.

Asserts Epigram Credited Lincoln Made by Barnum

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Mida McGillicuddy, Dallas historian, has made overtures to several national historical societies to see that "credit is given where due," and if her contentions are complied with, P. T. Barnum, famous circus king, will be credited with an expression in the past attributed to Abraham Lincoln.
"The world famous maxim, 'You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time,' was originated by Barnum, according to Mrs. McGillicuddy and requested by Lincoln in a speech at Clinton, Illinois, September 8, 1858."

BLUE LAW OF POMONA IS UPHELD

Justice Sustains Ban on Motion Picture Theatres, Public Amusements

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—A decision, far reaching in its effect, upholding the constitutionality of Sunday closing ordinances throughout the state, was handed down today by the second district court of appeal, Division No. 1.

Justice Houser, who wrote the opinion, upheld the constitutionality of an ordinance adopted some three years ago by the city of Pomona, making it unlawful to conduct motion picture theatres, public dance halls, skating rinks or other places of public amusement upon or during any portion of any Sunday.

Cafe Owner Is Killed In Bootlegger Fight

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Luigi Quattrone, cafe owner, is dead, Thomas Rogerie, probably fatally wounded and Police Officer Daniel Panarsky shot through the thigh here today as the result of a gun fight between the officer and asserted bootleggers. Panarsky claimed he was fired upon by alleged rum dealers.

LATEST NEWS

TAGGART THREATENED WITH APPENDICITIS

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Tom Taggart, Democratic national committeeman and Indianapolis political leader, is threatened with appendicitis and was today "under observation" at the Phillips house, an exclusive branch of the Massachusetts general hospital here. Taggart was stricken while at his summer home at Hyannisport, on the cape. His wife and daughter are here waiting the verdict of the physicians.

INDICT CONGRESSMAN ON VOLSTEAD ACT

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24.—John Philip Hill, Republican congressman from the third district of Maryland was indicted today by the federal grand jury on charges of violating the Volstead act. Two weeks ago Hill, the outstanding champion of the anti-Volsteadists, began the manufacture of hard cider at his "farm" at No. 3 West Franklin, as a test of a clause of the law that permits farmers to manufacture cider.

OFFICIALLY END WORLD FLIGHT SATURDAY

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—The round the world flight will come to an official end at Sand Point aviation field Saturday afternoon. This was definitely announced today by Worral Wilson, vice president of the chamber of commerce, after a long distance conversation with Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, flight commander, at Hollywood.

NEED $60,000 TO FINISH BUDGET

Eighty Team Workers Will Secure Required Total Before November 1

The seven-day drive for a $275,000 Y. M. C. A. building in Glendale terminated last night with $215,700 reported in bonafide subscriptions, leaving a balance of $59,200, which was underwritten by eighty team members, and is to be raised before November 1, in order to make all subscriptions binding. A total of $70,790.50 was raised yesterday alone, the report shows.

"The building is therefore assured," General Chairman George B. McDill told the workers gathered at the Glendale Presbyterian church last night, "and the news can go out across the state of California that Glendale has not failed."

Set Dinner Date
There will be a dinner at the Presbyterian church at 6:15 o'clock Thursday night, September 25, Mr. McDill announced, when every team member who has helped underwrite the balance needed to complete the building fund will gather for reports, it being anticipated that in the meantime a good portion of this sum will have been obtained.

The "spizzierintum" cup went to Roy L. Kent, captain of Team 14 of J. A. Newton's "Live Y-ers," for the high total of $15,504. Second honors were annexed by T. A. Wright, captain of Team 4 of C. W. Ingledue's "Bear Cats," for the next highest total of $14,945.

The "Bear Cat" division won, with $59,212.50 to its credit as

Major Zanni, Mechanic, Narrowly Escape Death

HONG KONG, Sept. 24.—Major Zanni, Argentine "round-the-world flyer," his mechanic, Felipe Beltrame, and the Peruvian consul, Senior Rouillon, narrowly escaped drowning in a collision in the harbor today between a government launch and a motorboat in which the airman was proceeding to his plane to resume his flight to Peking. Major Zanni was picked up completely exhausted. No announcement was made, but it was presumed he will fly to Shanghai as soon as he has recovered despite the warning of Chinese generals not to enter the civil war zone with his plane.

An idea of what widespread effect this campaign is to have on American business, can be gathered from the fact that the investment houses belonging to the association have sold a total of more than $3,644,000,000 of investment securities, the money which has put new life blood in the veins of industry. In the first eight months of 1924, the new financing in the form of bonds and investment stocks placed has totaled more than $3,644,000,000. Of this sum over $1,250,000,000 was in municipal securities. Public utility stocks and bonds amounted to over $1,000,000,000. There is every reason to believe that the new capital which will go into the business of the United States by next January 1, will exceed $6,000,000,000.

Estate of Late Jimmy Murphy Set at $87,500

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Setting forth the estate of Jimmy Murphy, idol of automobile race fans, to be worth $87,500, Mrs. Mary L. O'Donnell, an aunt, had on file here today a petition for letters of administration, Murphy, who met death on a Syracuse, N. Y., track was credited by friends at the time of his death as having property valued at $250,000. The estate consists of Los Angeles real estate, two racing cars, a pleasure car and an airplane. Murphy's closest relatives are three aunts and five uncles.

PRINCE IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—The Prince of Wales and his party arrived in Winnipeg this morning four hours late. He will remain here several hours before proceeding to his ranch.

BUSINESS TO GET MORE CAPITAL

Ample Funds Available In Coming Year, Declares Investment Leader

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 24.—There is going to be ample capital available in the next year to meet the requirements of the commerce, trade and industry of the United States, according to Thomas N. Dysart, of St. Louis, who will be the next president of the Investment Bankers' association of America, now in convention here.

The things, Mr. Dysart said today, are going to bring this needed capital into channels of distribution—confidence and advertising.

"The investors of the country both small and great," are getting to know their bankers better and use them more," Mr. Dysart added. "They have found that reliable investment bankers can give them the same expert advice in making their dollars work efficiently and safely for them that a consulting, mechanical, industrial, electrical or mining engineer gives his client."

Should Investigate
"They know that no reputable banker willingly sees his patrons put their funds into uncertain investments. If they lose money, he loses a client and without clients he would soon cease to be an investment banker. Members of the Investment Bankers' association hold firm to the policy not only that those with idle dollars should invest them, but that they should investigate both the securities they buy and the house through which they buy them."

This has established a confidence on the part of those whose money will serve in the future to keep the wheels of American industry at a faster pace. Confidence will undoubtedly be strengthened by the campaign of advertising and education which the association and its members have in view."

Involves Huge Sum
An idea of what widespread effect this campaign is to have on American business, can be gathered from the fact that the investment houses belonging to the association have sold a total of more than $3,644,000,000 of investment securities, the money which has put new life blood in the veins of industry. In the first eight months of 1924, the new financing in the form of bonds and investment stocks placed has totaled more than $3,644,000,000. Reports of Bulgaria King's Death Denied

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Reports that King Boris of Bulgaria was assassinated are untrue, arising from a hoax put over on the Serbian press, according to a Ceylon despatch circulated here this afternoon. Boris is safe at his summer home in Varna, it said.

Even the Bulgarian newspapers were taken in, said the despatch. They printed full accounts of the alleged crime, claiming that a servant stabbed the king to the heart and shot three ministers who were conferring with him. Guerilla warfare and an epidemic of assassinations have developed in the Bulgarian civil war, following the defeat of the Macedonian rebels at Petrich, according to advices from Berlin.

Puts Oakland Woman On Education Board

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—Control of the state board of education today passed into the hands of Governor Richardson. The governor appointed as his fourth member on the educational board Mrs. Helen Hastings of Oakland. She succeeded Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips of Porterville whose term expired. The governor also named Dr. W. H. Kenwick of Sacramento and Dr. E. J. Wylie of Los Angeles to vacancies on the state board of dental examiners.

Divorced Wife of Dr. Cook Goes to Work In Cafeteria

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 24.—Apparently substantiating the poverty claim of her exploring husband, Dr. Frederick C. Cook, Arctic explorer and mountain climber, Mrs. Marie Cook, his divorced wife, who rallied to his aid during the recent oil fraud trial here, has taken a position as cashier in a cafeteria.
She announced that to send her two daughters through a fashionable eastern school it was necessary that she go to work. Dr. Cook has been in the county jail here a year. His repeated attempts at securing an appeal bond have proved futile. He was sentenced to fourteen years in prison—found guilty of engineering a million-dollar oil swindle.

CALIFORNIA'S POLO TEAM WINNER

Enters Finals of American Open Championship by Beating Shelbournes

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—California's polo representatives, riding under the purple of the Midwick club, played themselves into the final of the American open championship at Meadowbrook this afternoon, beating the Shelbournes team in a hair-line finish, 5 to 4.

While the Midwicks were defeating the Shelbournes Tommy Hitchcock's Wanders were preparing to meet the Orange county team in the other semi-final. The Midwicks relied on the same combination that carried them to the national junior championship at Rumson, N. J., with the exception of carrying the brunt of the attack at No. 2, while the Shelbournes was led by Webb, the dexterous left-hander who shone so brightly in the recent international challenge cup series between the United States and England.

PIRATES LOSE CHANCE AT LEAGUE'S PENNANT

Southpaw Yde Fools Giants For Four Innings, Then They Fall on Him

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Outplayed, outgessed and out-manned, the Pittsburgh Pirates were practically eliminated from serious competition in the fight for the National league pennant here this afternoon when they were beaten for the second consecutive time by the New York Giants 4 to 2.

Left-handed into almost a state of coma in the first four innings by Yde, the big southpaw star of the Pirates hurling staff, the Giants got going in the fifth inning and in the sixth for the runs necessary to win.

One run fell to them in the fifth when Wilson socked a home run into the right field stands. In the sixth they turned a dribbling rally into the start of a three-run bunt. Lindstrom, substituting for Groh at third, hit in front of the plate but so much English was on the ball it rolled out of reach of Yde and he was safe.

Puts Meusel On
Young sacrificed and after Kelly was killed off, Yde put Meusel on first purposely in order to get a crack at Terry, who hits left handed. Terry replied with a single which scored Lindstrom. Traynor made a dazzling play to get Meusel and Grimm dropped the ball. Meusel scored and Terry reaching third from where he scored when the Pirates fizzled in an attempt to get him at the plate in an attempted double steal.
Earl Smith contributed both Pittsburgh runs with home runs smashes into the right field stand, one in the seventh and one in the ninth.

First Inning
Pittsburgh—Bigbee fanned. Carey out, Barnes to Terry. Moore singled. Wright flied to Young. No runs, one hit.

Second Inning
New York—Maranville threw out Lindstrom. Young out, Wright to Grimm. Kelly fanned. No runs, no hits.

Bobby Jones Gains In Golf Tournament

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Bobby Jones advanced another step toward the amateur golf championship today by proceeding to the third round of the national tournament over the figurative remains of D. Clarke Corkran, the qualifying medalist, Jones winning on the third and fourth greens by 3 up and 2 to play. Almost simultaneously, Dexter Cummings, Chicago, eliminated W. T. Hope, England's last survivor (by 8 up and 7 to play, and Francis Ouimet, ex-champion, disposed of Eddie Held, St. Louis' pride, by 4 up and 3 to play.

HARRY M. BENNETT, retiring toparch of the local Scouts, who was last night given a life membership in the order and also words of praise for his work.

Honor was conferred last night by Glendale Scouts on their retiring toparch, Harry M. Bennett, who was tendered a life membership in the order. In so honoring Mr. Bennett it was declared that "Harry M. Bennett, descending from the Egyptian throne, will ever be known as one of the greatest Pyramid builders of modern times. No ancient king ever acquitted himself in a more masterly manner than the Scouts' choice of one year ago. During his reign he was ever kind, considerate and the best of the rest of the world in a manner which can only be equaled and never exceeded by modern royalty."

The membership presented Mr. Bennett is not only one of life in Glendale Pyramid, No. 39, but also a life membership in the Supreme Pyramid of California.

During the meeting the following Scouts were named delegates to the convention at Redding: Messrs. Baker, Thomas, Kinley and Cove. It was unanimously voted to send the Scout band to the convention to defend the cup, which they won last year in San Diego.

Following the meeting the Scouts paid a visit to Unity lodge and enjoyed a bountiful spread in the banquet hall. Scout Louis entertained with songs, and Scout Thourkittle gave some of his hilarious comedy.

A stipulation to this effect, entered into by the various parties to the suit, was filed this afternoon by Mr. Morrow, at the time of the scheduled hearing before Judge Hartley Shaw in Department 25 of the superior court. Under the terms of this stipulation, the Verdugo Canyon Water Co. may pump a continuous flow of thirty-five miners' inches of water per month from these wells, until a final settlement is reached. A miner's inch of water is approximately nine gallons a minute.

Rabbit skins to the number of 3,486,000 and with a value of $450,000, were shipped from New Zealand in one month recently.

PROTECTION SOUGHT AT AIRPORT

C. of C. Committee Chosen To Make Investigation Of Menacing Wires

Appointment of a committee of three directors to meet with three owners of the Glendale Airport for an inspection trip over the grounds of the landing field, in order that a report and recommendation might be made to the City Council regarding the nuisance caused by overhead wires at the airport was made last night by George Karr, second vice-president, at the meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

The committee's appointment came after a thorough explanation of the situation existing at the airport was made by Dr. T.

By GIL A. COWAN

With the Y. M. C. A. building fund drive drawing to a close Glendale will next turn its attention to bond issues to be voted upon September 30.

Any growing city needs look to its future and obtain those necessary adjuncts which only bond issues will provide. Be it schools, parks, fire equipment, civic center, sewerage system, food control or anything else it should be had when vital.

Proponents of the several projects at the coming election deem them vital and of great importance. Judgment will be borne out by the voters—and everyone should vote at a bond election.

Those who desire to vote at the special election to follow should see to it they are registered immediately. Citizens who are not eligible to vote should never complain of powers that be in this democracy.

Whenever things appear unsatisfactory it is not the duty of elected officers to blame, but the people who failed to put some one else in their place. No country has a more satisfactory system, for each individual's voice in government is carefully registered.

While compulsory voting would have evils equal to the lackadaisical effort put forth by the electorate at present, it would awaken many good citizens to their duty.

Southern California demonstrated its patriotism yesterday in the reception accorded the world flyers upon their return to Clover field.

While Lieutenant Lowell Smith is to be congratulated first, perhaps, as commander of the flight, it took Lieutenant Eric Nelson to play the role of a perfect hero. He jauntily wore the crown of flowers without embarrassment, he admonished newspaper men not to ask foolish questions, and when the crush of hero worshippers became too great he wisely counseled, "Let's get out of here."

However, it is unlikely that adulation of Angelenos will turn the heads of the airmen. Like eagles they fly too high for earthly vanities. And they should rightly consider whatever honor paid them is their just due.

Oh, Gracious! Girls! Real English Lord On His Way Here!

Girls, wouldn't you just adore a tidbit Englishman of 18 summers as a dancing partner?

The heir to the ninth Earl of Sandwich is en route to Los Angeles on a world tour. He is athletic, single, and says American girls are stunning, but he has yet to see the "weenies" of Hollywood.

Oh, yes. His name is Lord Alexander Edward Paulet Montague Hinchingsbrooke, or "Lord Eddie" for short. And Queen Alexandra of England is his godmother.

Tuesday Club Makes $1,000 Pledge for 'Y'

Active interest of Tuesday Afternoon club officers and members in civic affairs was emphasized yesterday at the advisory council meeting at the clubhouse, when $1,000 was pledged on the Y. M. C. A. fund, and plans were announced for the big mass meeting next Monday at the clubhouse, in the interests of the coming bond election. Officers, curators of departments and chairmen of committees were in attendance at the council meeting, over which the president, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, presided.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, junior past president of the club, and head of the women's division of the Y. M. C. A. drive, presented the Y. M. C. A. cause to the club executives and the $1,000 was voted. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, another past president of the club, who is active in the bond campaign, spoke on the bonds, making a plea for every club member to be an intelligent voter. Plans were discussed for the mass meeting and a campaign to get every club member out to the meeting and to register and vote. At noon the council had luncheon and spent the remainder of the time discussing routine club affairs.

Chemistry Expert to Make Cotton Inquiry

Dr. Elbert E. Chandler, for fifteen years the head of the chemistry department at Occidental college, has been granted a leave of absence to act as chairman of a committee of eight experts appointed by the United States Department of Agriculture to investigate and standardize the color and spinning qualities of cotton. The chair of chemistry will be filled during the absence of Dr. Chandler by Dr. Alfred N. Cook, professor of chemistry for fifteen years at the University of South Dakota.

The Grand Army Post and Relief Corps will hold an all-day meeting Friday in the Grand Army hall on Glendale avenue. It is requested that there be a large attendance as there is important business to come before the corps. Lunch will be served by a committee at the noon hour.

Nationally Known Expert on Domestic Science to Hold Free School

The Better Homes, Better Foods school program to be conducted by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News at Hahn Auditorium, 109-A North Brand boulevard, the week beginning September 29 to October 3, was nearly completed today.

It has been the purpose of this newspaper to have included in the series of lectures and demonstrations to be given by Mrs. Chase, every subject that is of importance to the average American home. A diversity of interest is then provided which doubly assures all women of a worthwhile opportunity for gaining helpful suggestions and ideas for the conduct of their homes.

Home Management Not only will Mrs. Chase handle the furnishing and decorating of a home, and discuss the styles of furniture and the manner of arranging furniture so as to get

Urges Votes Against Buying of 33 Acres

Editor The Evening News—As a member of the committee of twenty-nine, I am asking all good voters of Glendale to vote no on No. 7, September 30, for this is the same thirty-three acres of land that the city bought last year and had to give back for two reasons, one because the superior court of Los Angeles county said it was not legal, and the other the good voters of Glendale said "no" over 3 to 1, at a price of only $68,000 as against $126,000 now. The question was asked one of the owners of this land, at a committee meeting, why he considered this land worth so much more now than it was last fall. His answer was he thought his company should have a fair profit on its investment. I, for one, think $76,000 is a fair profit on a $50,000 investment and that is what I have been told the owners paid for the thirty-three acres of land. Kind friend, stop and think before you vote if you have any intention of voting for this $126,000.

R. BELCHER, A Member of the Citizens' Bond Committee.

EASIER FOR SAILORS

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 24.—Through efforts of the American Legion and other civic groups it is anticipated that warships will be permitted to anchor over weekends and on holidays in Santa Monica bay in order that sailors may be landed at Venice and Ocean Park and Santa Monica without necessitating expensive trips to these watering places. The flagship Seattle has been ordered here on Navy Day, October 27, according to information received from Admiral S. S. Robinson in charge of the naval base at San Pedro.

Imports to the United States during October, 1923, totaled $303,000,000.

Attendance Increases At City Playgrounds

A total of 6856 admissions to the municipal playgrounds were recorded during July and August of this year, a total daily average of 131 children being recorded at the three grounds, reports R. Ernest Tucker, director, in a written report to the Board of Education, addressed to Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools. The playgrounds this year were located at the Grand View, Doran and Pacific schools. Last year, with playgrounds at the Cerritos and Central schools, the daily average attendance was thirty-six children, Mr. Tucker's report states.

"We feel we should be much encouraged over the advance in attendance this year," said Mr. Tucker in commenting on these figures. "The report is evidence the people of Glendale are becoming educated to the importance of summer playgrounds."

Hunter Carrying Deer Is Shot by Mistake

Emil Swanson of 2372 Addison way, Eagle Rock, is recovering today from a freak gunshot wound received yesterday in a thicket near Mount Whitney, when the carcass of a deer strapped to his automobile drew the fire of Gus Flanagan of San Diego, who thought the game was on foot.

"Never again!" said Flanagan, when he had recovered from the shock. "If I can't tell a dead deer from a live one, I guess my hunting days are over."

With Mr. Swanson at the time of the accident was his father-in-law, H. N. Tracy. The bullet entered Swanson's left side. He had the wound treated and drove 200 miles to his home.

John Vosburgh Plays Lead In Production

Glendale people who are antipating attending the opening play of the Dobinson Players at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, "A Prince There Was," will be interested in learning that John Vosburgh is to play the lead, while William H. Stevens will play second. Mr. Vosburgh has a brilliant motion picture background, as well as wide experience in the spoken drama. He is well known in Southern California, where he has won prominence on the screen and in stock. Mr. Stevens is to be featured in the third play to be given by the Dobinson Players, "Turn to the Right."

BUSINESS INCREASE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—An increase of 43 per cent more business establishments than existed last year was discovered in the annual report of the county sealer of weights and measures. More than 120,000 weighing and measuring devices were examined in Los Angeles county.

Park Board Discusses $157,500 Bond Issue

The Glendale Park board met this morning at the City Hall, President L. H. Wilson presiding, and L. T. Rowley, Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, Valentine M. Hollister and R. Ernest Tucker present. Ways and means for assuring success of the $157,500 park bonds to be voted at the election of September 30 occupied the major portion of the time allotted to the meeting.

It was reported by Mr. Tucker that the palm trees obtained from the Central avenue parkways are now installed at the two-acre Mountain Street park given to the city last summer by the Haddock-Nibley company. A blueprint map showing the boundaries of the proposed thirty-five-acre park at Mountain and Azanza streets was looked over by the board. This is the park for which the city proposes to pay $122,500, if the park bonds carry.

Rasputin, the notorious Russian monk, was first poisoned, then shot to death.

Piano Recital Given By Wesley Kuhnle

Wesley Kuhnle, well known pianist and teacher, demonstrated his splendid musicianship last night in a recital at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where he made his first public appearance since his recent return from the east and abroad and study in New York, Leipzig, Berlin and London. It was a happy occasion for the new and old friends of this talented concert pianist, for they noted in their enjoyment of his playing, increased brilliancy of interpretation and perfection of technique.

The program was drawn from a repertoire of more than seventy-five pieces, including various modern and ultra-modern pieces. This recital was the first of a series of three, the other two announced for November 18, 1924 and January 29, 1925. Mr. Kuhnle has his studio at 111 West Maple street.

Are You Fit, or Merely "Getting By?"

IF YOU are Physically and Mentally Fit, it is a reasonable certainty that you are Eating Properly. If you are not fit, it is in all probability because you are eating in a manner that makes Health Impossible.

Mistakes of the Past

In a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association its editor says: "The story of the etiology of pernicious anemia might properly be described as a series of chapters among which one may be labeled Ignorance, another Mistaken Ideas and a third the Recital of Unproved Theories. Before the seeming barriers to the understanding of this baffling disease, it requires scientific courage to start a new attack."

Treatment of disease has too long been given from the wrong standpoint. Disease has been assumed to result from a positive rather than from a negative cause.

The New Discovery

Disease, plainly and definitely stated, is almost invariably traceable fundamentally to Denatured, Unnatural Food, Air or Water, or all three combined.

Having come to recognize this startling fact, it should be easy to discover the remedy to a diseased condition. It rests in supplying the body with those readily obtained elements necessary for the replenishment of the millions of tissue cells of which the body is built.

The Law of Life

The law is summed up in one word: REPLENISHMENT.

The healthy human body is marvelously composed of Sixteen Mineral and Chemical elements, namely, Iron, Iodine, Sodium, Phosphorus, Sulphur, Carbon, Oxygen, Hydrogen, Nitrogen, Manganese, Magnesium, Chlorine, Fluorine, Calcium, Silicon and Potassium.

Normal blood is made up of these same sixteen elements for the vital purpose of Replenishing the Body Tissues. If a single one is deficient or lacking—as it must be if not supplied in natural food—Altered Function, Disease, inevitably results in some part or parts of the body.

A Deficiency of Iodine (not iodine bought in bottles, but that found in natural, undenatured food) results in the enlargement of the thyroid gland into a Goitre; a Deficiency of Phosphorus results in disease in the Nervous System; a Deficiency of Calcium and Sodium results in disease in the Teeth and Bones and lays the body open to Tuberculosis, and so on down the list.

Infinite Provision

The Creator has provided most bountifully for man's healthy existence. In Nature we have marvelous provision for both Tickling the Palate and Replenishing the Tissue Cells.

But what does man in his ignorance do? He takes the Perfect Foods which God has grown, tears them apart and attempts to subsist on parts of them, and when Disability and Sickness come, he does not understand that the basic cause was failure to eat the food as God made it, instead of changing it into substances Wholly Different Chemically from the original.

Poison vs. Food

Bear in mind our bodies are Marvelous Chemical Laboratories, operating day and night and that they must be Supplied Regularly with the Sixteen Mineral and Chemical Elements above named to operate normally.

Iodine and phosphorus are absolutely necessary for health, and, eaten in the foods in which Nature places them, they Build and Maintain Health. An ounce of Iodine or a dozen grains of Phosphorus taken into the body out of the natural combination in which they occur in Nature's products will cause Instant Death.

Food and Health

Health is the normal state, disease the unnatural.

Disease is the Absence of Health. It is primarily a lack of something—a negative condition.

Stopping denatured, unnatural food and adopting natural food is the First Necessary Step to health.

True and False Appetites

As our tissues return to normal, the more will we Hunger for Normal, Natural Food.

Most persons are so used to salting and peppering and sugaring and vinegaring their Cooking as done other than by this company's new process Devitalizes and Denatures food by Oxidation, Precipitation and Evaporation, destroying the vitamins and causing heavy loss of mineral salts.

Whole Grain Wheat is undevitalized and undenatured and is the same chemically as the wheat in the wheat field. The special process employed in its preparation has simply broken up the grain and made mastication easy.

A New Outlook

The adoption of Whole Grain Wheat will give you a health basis to stand on that will make life more worth while. It will banish disease and give you a New Grip on your work.

All of the various manifestations of disease, from Constipation and Asthma to Tuberculosis and Diabetes, have responded to the magic of this most perfect food product of Nature and given way to health and normal function.

Use it and see; our guarantee protects you.

Where Obtainable

Whole Grain Wheat is available in Glendale only through the Glendale Food & Health Clinic, 121 South Orange street. In cases of one dozen tins, (sufficient for twenty-four days for one person) at $2.25, or in cases of four dozen tins at $8.30. Delivered. Glendale readers telephone orders to Glendale 2266-M or call at our office between 8:30 and 5:30 any day.

Warning

Do not confuse home cooked wheat with Whole Grain Wheat. Read Mrs. Bradley's letter wherein she states that after eating two dozen cans of Whole Grain Wheat and being cured of chronic constipation and neuritis, she tried cooking some of the whole grains of wheat herself and her neuritis and constipation returned, but as soon as she returned to eating Whole Grain Wheat she was completely relieved; showing that the preparation of the whole grain of wheat by cooking in a fireless cooker, pressure cooker or in any open or closed vessel changes the chemical elements and their relationship to such an extent that the wheat is no longer a perfect food.

Save Three Ways

Cut off your cost of inefficiency; cut out your cost of ill health; and cut down your cost of food, for it is guaranteed to reduce your food and grocery bill 25% to 50% when eaten twice daily. Eat Whole Grain Wheat for replenishment.

Use it and see; our guarantee protects you.

OUR CHALLENGE

We challenge any man or woman, well or sick, to use WHOLE GRAIN WHEAT twice a day for twenty-four days and not confess a definite and distinct all around improvement, physically and mentally—mentally, mind you, too. We'll go further and contract to return the price you have paid, without argument, if after using the case on the basis of twice a day the user has the slightest doubt of his or her mental and physical improvement. This is a guarantee to the world—to any body, anywhere.

Take "L" Out of Slave

Take "I" out of slave and it spells save. Save and it spells success. It builds a bridge to a better job. It is a ladder to climb up in the world. It trains you for increased responsibility. It is a bulwark against sickness and adversity. It prepares you for financial opportunities. Any successful man will advise you to save. There is no better way to save than our plan.

Come in and ask about it.

ANALYZING CONGRESS

Answering the question, "What's the matter with Congress?" Charles Brown, representing a New Jersey district in the House of Representatives, says in Scribner's that public indifference is one thing that may be included under this title.

Congressman Brown first shows that the fault is not in our form of government, which is stable and well suited to meet the needs of the people. The blame, then, for inefficiency falls upon the personnel of Congress and part of this responsibility rests with those who should have made a better choice. He notes that strict attention to parliamentary procedure both hastens and hinders the will of the people. Lack of parliamentary procedure was a decided factor in causing the French revolution, and a number of Central and South American republics have suffered from the same cause. But, the fact that parliamentary law compels strict obedience to the rules makes possible its use in delaying or defeating legislation, and promoting the art of filibustering. The rules, he says, "should be changed and simplified so that such pathologic legislative performances as filibustering would be made unnecessary and impossible, and the clear purpose of Congress rendered easy of accomplishment."

In answer to the charge that the size of the House impedes its action, he says the records show that the House functions as well, if not better, than the Senate, which is less than one-fourth as large.

Mr. Brown speaks of the abuse of the Congressional Record, in which a member may receive permission to print almost anything. In the last session one member inserted fifteen pages of advertisements from Washington newspapers at a cost to the government of over $1000. The New Jersey congressman would limit the space allotted to each member and require him to pay for any space used beyond the allotment.

Coming down to the personnel of Congress, he says these men are representative citizens of the districts from which they come. "From a hick district," he says, "we expect a super-hick, and we get him. The voters cannot complain since they do the choosing, and those who do not take the trouble to vote deserve little, if any, consideration."

Those who go to Congress are necessarily of the political type and basically egotistical. This must be so since they have devoted much time and money to prove their superiority to others who have sought the same office. Instances of the office seeking the man are very rare. However, the fact that a man is sufficiently interested in public affairs to go through a political campaign argues that he can be a capable public servant.

There are two great basic handicaps to efficient legislation in Congress, according to Mr. Brown. First, the obsession of many members that they have been elected by their party solely to harass the other party. Second, the shadow of the coming election which falls upon every member and influences his judgment. Another menace to legislation is the bloc system which defeats, but cannot create, legislation.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LIBRARY

Where are the boys and girls who used to read books from the Sunday school library? Those old books we used to select with care and read with avidity and pleasure are now entirely out of date. Modern authors and critics frown upon them. They were neither literature nor life. The criticism is well founded. As we recall some of the old stories, the heroes were a little too heroic and the heroines a little too good to be human beings. And yet, we will venture that no child was ever injured mentally, morally or spiritually by the reading of the type of book that used to appear on the shelves of the Sunday school library. It was so infinitely better than what the young people read today, if indeed, they read at all.

There may be some of us whose ability to read and appreciate real literature was stunted by our addiction to Sunday school library books, but that is not the greatest calamity that could befall one, literary critics notwithstanding. Much of the trash that is foisted upon the young people today is calculated to spoil both their mentalities and their morals.

If a boy is sufficiently interested in a story to read it through, he is interested in the hero to the extent of taking him for a model, an ideal. And, it is not going to hurt any boy one whit to have as an ideal one who is good under all circumstances and conditions, even though such a hero is not true to life and the ideal cannot be attained. When the boy grows up, if he is of ordinary intelligence, he can appraise the literary value of such books for what they are worth, but the lessons he has learned from them will remain with him and influence his whole life. It is too bad that the young people stopped reading Sunday school library books.

THE "IGNOBLE" PRIZE

Readers of a certain magazine are asked to suggest the names of books from which one will be selected to be awarded the "Ignoble" prize. High school boys and girls will greatly applaud a correspondent who nominates for this prize, "Plane and Solid Geometry," by any author. Certain it is that no book ever caused humanity so much suffering, from the days of Euclid to the present time. All authors of geometries fail to put their personalities into their work, and so are equally black in crime. The geometry is not a book we love to pick up to while away an idle hour, neither do we keep it lying on the bedside table to keep us company in the lonely hours of the night when sleeplessness overtakes us. Therefore "Plane and Solid Geometry" should receive the ignoble prize. Q. E. D.

BUSINESS EXPANSION

According to good authority from the east there is being experienced a moderate expansion in all lines of business. The growth is said to be entirely natural and the volume of business indicates an upward trend although there is an absence of speculative buying. The United States Steel corporation, which has shown a steady decline in business since last February, reports an increase the past month and the same result is evident in other lines. Eastern financial centers look for a restoration of normal conditions by the first of the year.

With the advent of the touring motorist, many of the great open spaces have been closed for repairs.

The Airplane of the Future

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is little doubt that the means of rapid communication in the future will be the airplane. Recently a thirty-three hour service began between New York and San Francisco. This cuts the time by rail, sixty-three hours.

Most of the pioneer work has been done by the Government and the Army, which is by natural, as the railroads, which should have done this, are too conservative to undertake such enterprise.

It is not unreasonable to believe that in time to come the airplane will be as common as the automobile.

There are very many persons already in the United States who are running automobiles and who are familiar with their machinery. These can easily become drivers of airplanes.

For national defense, the airplane is a more sensible means than anything else. Keeping up great battleships, which have no use in commerce, costs a great deal. We need something which can be used in time of peace and can be easily transferred to the army in time of war.

This is the airplane. And a nation that can summon fifty or a hundred thousand airplanes at a moment's notice will be invincible.

The command of the air, therefore, if it can be made useful for commerce and transportation, can also be made useful for attack and defense.

It is always interesting to look into the future and see what will happen or what is likely to happen. We may depend upon the future being a development of those tendencies at present in operation.

It is reasonable to suppose that the predominant forces of the future will be in the air and that nation will command the future which shall command the air. Communication by radio is being rapidly developed and radio will undoubtedly furnish the means by which the country can intellectually become a unit. If the airplane keeps pace with this, and if it continues to develop as a practical machine, we may look forward to its future with interest.

The attempt to unite all nations in a common government, and to induce each nation to give up such portion of its sovereignty as shall be necessary to that common government, was made at the close of the last war but it does not seem entirely successful. We have chosen to fall back to the old order which consists in making each nation impregnable to the other and, at least so long as we continue to be of this opinion, it will be necessary to develop the internal resources of every country to resist attack by the others.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

In 1789—GEORGE WASHINGTON ELECTED

At our first presidential election (1789) twelve candidates were voted for. The people had nothing to do with the election—the framers of the Constitution did not intend they should. The States were to name electors and the choice of President and Vice-President was to be their business. There were no conventions, no nominations, no political campaign, no parties.

The electors had no strings to them—they could have voted for John Smith had they been so disposed. In fact, so little has been the change in theory, however much it may have been in practice, that at the next election the Electoral College might choose you, gentle reader, for President, if they took the notion. Which would be something of a joke on Coolidge, Davis and La Follette, but one quite within the constitutional rights of the electors to perpetrate.

In the first election only ten states participated. Rhode Island and North Carolina had not yet ratified the Constitution and New York was too busy with a row in its legislature to bother about such a little matter as the election of a President. In seven states the legislature appointed electors. In three, electors were chosen by popular vote, but few people took the trouble to go to the polls and the electors were chosen simply for their reputation as men of standing and unbiased minds. Imagine choosing a Presidential elector today because he was "unbiased!"

Each elector was allowed to vote for two men for Chief Executive; the candidate receiving the largest number of votes to be President and the one receiving the second largest to be Vice-President. All voted for Washington and somebody else. Of the eleven "somebody else" John Adams got the largest vote and thereby became Vice-President.

The names of the others in this somebody else list have, most of them, perished from the memory of the ordinary man. Everybody knows about John Hancock, of course, and a few will remember who were John Jay, Benjamin Lincoln and George Clinton. But how many can tell who were Samuel Huntington, Robert Harrison, John Rutledge, John Milton (not the poet), James Armstrong and Edward Telford? They were the "favorite sons" of the day, and the "immortality" of a few lines in the "Cyclopedia of American Biography" is still theirs.

Horoscope

This should be a fortunate day, according to astrology Jupiter, Mercury and Venus are all in benefic aspect.

Under this planetary government strong men and women should benefit greatly.

It is lucky for bankers who are to gain domination in certain international affairs at this time.

Trade should expand in the next few months which will bring fortunes to a new group of enterprising capitalists.

They who marry under this direction of the stars should prosper exceedingly and enjoy much prominence in social affairs.

Hotels will continue to profit greatly during the next few months for persons of every class will travel.

Much discontent in Great Britain is indicated and there may be a heavy mortality among the people.

Trade disturbed through strikes and waste of public money in England are prophesied by a London astrologer.

Warning is given that British government affairs are to be greatly disturbed and that this unrest will be reflected in this country where there may be secret enemies at work.

Heavy storms attended with loss of life again are prognosticated and this is read as an unfavorable time for ocean voyages.

Hospitals in the United States are to be overcrowded if the stars are read right for there may be a serious epidemic.

The seers warn that those who sow wild will reap death in hideous form, for they prophesy strange phases of disease.

Again the menace of narcotic slavery is to be strong and new evidence of deliberate corruption of the young will be obtained.

Persons whose birthdays it is have the augury of a happy year in which there will be prosperity, but it will be well to avoid all temptation to make changes in location.

Children born on this day probably will be generally fortunate in their undertakings.

"OLD BOOKS ARE BEST"
Old Books are best! With what delight
Does "Faithorne fecit" greet our sight
On frontispiece or title-page
Of that old time, when on the stage

"Sweet Nell" set "Rowley's" heart alight!
And you, O Friend, to whom I write,
Must not deny, e'en though you might,
Through fear of modern pirate's rage,
Old Books are best.

What though the print be not so bright,
The paper dark, the binding slight?

Our author, be he dull or sage,
Returning from that distant
So lives again, we say of right:
Old Books are best.

CRAFTY PARTY
The old tradition concerning the Scotch canniness when there's a penny in sight receives a new boost by the following story: A sportsman who had been shooting on a Highland moor became lost in a sudden mist. He tramped about hopelessly until the light failed, and at last, when he was beginning to become really anxious, he heard the sound of footsteps near at hand.

The sportsman shouted: "Hallo! Hallo, there! I'm lost!"

For answer came a cautious voice out of the gloom: "Ay... but there are no rewards for findin' ye!"

Who's Who

The Japanese government has selected Baron Kishiro Matsui to succeed Ambassador Hanabara as envoy to the United States and is awaiting only official approval of the selection by the U. S.

Baron Matsui has been minister of foreign affairs in the cabinet of Viscount Kiyoura. He is a close personal friend of Baron Kato and served as vice-minister when the latter was foreign minister in the Okuma cabinet.

The United States is not a strange land to him. He served on the Japanese staff in Washington some 16 years ago.

During the world war Baron Matsui held the important post of ambassador to France. After hostilities ceased he was selected as a delegate to the peace conference at Versailles.

Baron Matsui has said that he assumes full responsibility for the crisis brought about by Ambassador Hanabara's note regarding "grave consequences" that might follow the course of the U. S. government in handling the immigration problem.

A frank discussion of the large profits in the Mortgage Business --and the opportunity you now have to share in them

The mortgage business is known to everyone for its safety and its profit—just how it operates—how it makes money is not so widely known except to those people who are actively engaged or are really interested in the business.

Here's How

The following methods briefly described, have been proven by decades of service to be the most successful:

- (1) discounting the amount of the loan
- (2) collecting interest on the full amount
- (3) selling the paper to individual investors
- (4) making profit on the miscellaneous operations of the Corporation. The total profit is considerably higher than you may imagine.

You can get the complete details of the system by either coming to our office or mailing the coupon. There is no obligation of course, and for your own benefit you should find out.

Safety

The safety of mortgage investments is best proven by the fact that banks, insurance companies and similar institutions invest large percentages of their capital in this manner.

Your investment in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation is secured by the entire assets of the Corporation. 8% per annum must be paid on the Preferred Stock before a single dollar can be paid in dividends on the Common Stock.

Management

The officers are men who by their intimate acquaintance with realty values, financial matters and legal procedure are ably qualified to direct the affairs of this Corporation.

Their confidence in it—their responsibility and integrity are clearly demonstrated by the fact that they have invested their own money in it.

The Opportunity

Southern California needs additional money for the building of homes—and lots of it.

The management has seen the need—it has sensed the opportunity to profit by filling that need. That same opportunity is yours now. Come in or mail the coupon—get the facts TODAY.

MAKES PLEA FOR FIRE EQUIPMENT

Committee on Equipment In Letter to Evening News
Urges Bond Issue

Editor The Evening News—In making a survey of the fire department, and comparing its equipment, etc., with those maintained in cities of similar size, we find the Glendale fire department to be about 25 per cent efficient in equipment, buildings, etc. After a thorough and careful personal investigation by this committee we found that in case of a bad fire, say in the district around our new high school, it would take the entire fighting apparatus from Station No. 1 on Broadway away from the downtown district. Should a fire start in this district while the company was at the other fire, the business district would have absolutely no protection. This is quite liable to happen at any time, and it would cause the destruction of a considerable amount of valuable property right in the heart of our city. This example applies to nearly every fire station and district in Glendale. Our state fire marshal, Jay W. Stephens, and also the National Board of Fire Underwriters agree with this committee fully.

The $50,000 that we ask for in bonds was recommended for more fire stations, with apparatus to properly equip same and additions to the apparatus in the present stations.

After consultation with the different dealers in fire apparatus we found the cost of the needed apparatus, then the location and cost of land and buildings for the additional stations; and after summing it all up we found that $50,000 would equip our department to about 75 per cent efficiency. This of course is not just what the State or the Fire Underwriters would like, as they of course would like to see it 100 per cent. Glendale's rapid growth has been so great, and the funds for this use have been so limited, that it has been impossible for the city government to do any better than they have, but we are facing a very serious problem, and unless these bonds are carried our insurance rates will be so increased that every man or woman who owns an improved piece of property in the city of Glendale is going to pay a great deal more insurance than the additional taxes will amount to, as the insurance companies will not under the present conditions take the risk at the present rates in a district that is building up so close and fast.

We are not asking for these improvements one dollar more than is actually needed, and with this equipment we will probably be able to get along for a few years, and by that time, with Glendale's present rate of increase there will have to be much greater additions. We have simply taken into consideration the absolutely necessary equipment for the present time. It very often takes a large fire to wake people up to the necessity of fire protection; and while we have been very fortunate so far in not having any fires except those that were easily taken care of by our present force, we are liable to have a very forceful demonstration of the necessity of this department at any time; no one can tell when a fire starts where it is going to stop; so for the protection of all of the residents of Glendale, we say to those who have Glendale's interest at heart, "By all means to vote 'yes' on proposition No. 1 on the ballot and increase the safety of the entire city."

Yours very truly,
W. L. TWINING, Chairman,
Committee on Fire Equipment.

Plans for Benefit Ball Being Completed

Members of the Pythian Sewing club are working diligently to complete plans for the benefit bazaar ball which will be given at the Tuesday Afternoon club Saturday night, September 27. The Knights of Pythias have given the Pythian Sisters a part in the Pythian home and the affair to be given Saturday night is to raise money for this purpose. A portion of the proceeds will be given to the pool for the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, this money being donated to provide Christmas cheer for the soldiers. The Pythian home is located eight miles east of Santa Rosa and twenty-three miles northeast of Petaluma, "in the Valley of the Moon," the homestead consisting of 111 acres, was purchased for $75,000. The site, recently a part of former U. S. Senator Kearns' ranch, contains buildings, orchards and cultivated ground and is admirably suited for home purposes.

Tickets for the dance Saturday are 50 cents each and all are numbered, the coupons being placed in the box at Gregg's Hardware store. The tea room of the club will be reserved for cards and the prizes for the winners in the card games will be tickets entitling the holder to a chance on the prizes. The prizes will be awarded immediately after the card game. Tickets sold and "holders" sold entitle the contestants to ten votes in the contest and the contestants include: Misses Bee Sutton, Margaret Coghlin, Betty Nichol, of Los Angeles, Anne Crisman, of Montrose. The prizes for the contestants receiving the most votes include six twenty dollar photos from Ostrum's studio and a portrait in oil from Dolberg's studio.

The prizes which will be awarded

PLANS FOR BOND PARADE OUTLINED

Hope Expressed That Every Business In Glendale
Be Represented

Plans are being completed for the parade in connection with the bond issue election, according to announcement made by G. O. Russell, chairman of the parade committee of the Citizens' Bond committee, and efforts will be made to have every business place in Glendale represented in the demonstration which takes place Monday afternoon starting at 3 o'clock. The line is scheduled to form on Orange street facing north, and later announcement will be made regarding location in line and point of formation.

Districts of the city have been divided into sections and men appointed to call on the business men as follows: East Broadway, Frank Winn; Glendale avenue, J. K. Todd; West Broadway, W. Cole and J. I. Vernette; North Brand boulevard, J. B. Galvin; South Brand to Park, Ira Carlock; South Brand, Park to San Fernando, George Lyons; San Fernando road, Charles E. Murphy; Central avenue, William Truitt; East Colorado, M. B. Townman.

Prizes for Autos
Two prizes will be given for the best decorated automobiles, according to Mr. Russell, and people are urged to decorate their machines and compete for the awards. Banners with the words "Get out and vote tomorrow" and other slogans should be placed on the machines.

"The parade is going to be a big help in putting over the bond election," states Mr. Russell, "and it is up to everyone to work and make it a real parade. If you need help in calling on the business districts allotted to you, please get some one at once, as the work must be done."

Organizations of the city have been sent letters requesting that the chairman of the committee of each organization meet with the parade committee Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at 102 East Harvard, when further plans will be completed.

ed include a cedar chest from the Enterprise Furniture company, slumber robe, donated by the Pythian Sewing club, Rayo Light from the Park avenue pharmacy, headed bag, donated by Mrs. Betty Nichol, of Los Angeles, Picture of Kern river given and tinted by Mrs. A. K. Jenkins, a hand embroidered feather pillow given by Mrs. Anna Weatherby, and a live chicken.

Washable Wall Finish
Rubber Cement Floor Paint

SPLASH!—all over walls and floor! Not just once in awhile, but every day! No wonder every housewife wishes her bathroom were lined with tile!

But water and steam cannot disfigure or harm, if walls are finished with Silkenwhite Enamel or Washable Wall Finish, woodwork with Silkenwhite Enamel, and floors painted with Rubber Cement Floor Paint—the three easily-applied, inexpensive and durable finishes for your bathroom.

The effect of Silkenwhite Enamel is like tile! Your walls are waterproof, sanitary and easily cleaned. That's because the superior varnish in this product produces smooth, hard, tile-like surfaces. Washable Wall Finish is durable and water-resistant, but dries with a flat, velvet-like finish.

You can apply these finishes yourself. Washable Wall Finish comes in white and 20 attractive light colors. Silkenwhite Enamel provides white, ivory and other delicate shades. Rubber Cement Floor Paint offers choice of 14 attractive colors.

Ask the nearest Fuller dealer for color cards, also ask him about Fuller Pale Linoleum Varnish for bathroom linoleum floors.

L. A. EXCHANGE
By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Heaviest bond sales in many months were recorded on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange this morning when 44,000 Pacific Gas & Electric 5 1/2 changed hands at $97.50, and 11,000 of the 5s at $93. In the Edisons 41,500 sizes sold at $101.62 1/2, and $101.75. There were 26,000 General Petroleum bonds sold at 100.37 1/2 and up to $100.62 1/2. Several other substantial sales were made. In the stocks the Edison issues were firm and lightly sold. Los Angeles Investment opened at $2.41 and closed $2.50. Julian common sold $11.50 and $12, while preferred sold lightly at $18.25. Other oils were quiet.

Telluride sold well at $4.50 and Oatman United at $7.50 saw 5500 shares change hands.

Bricks, with facing on one side and unfinished on the other, and with air cells that insure insulation against heat and cold, have been introduced.

Need $60,000 to Get 'Y' Fund Completed

the drive total, and to Manager C. W. Ingledue and Assistant Manager W. F. Tower went the plug hat with the feathers. It was announced by Ernest Mogge, drive manager, that Mr. Ingledue's personal subscription of $5000 was the largest on record. The "Live Y-ers" division was second, with a total of $58,599.50.

The executive committee raised $66,095 during the drive. Mr. Mogge announced. Additional clubs subscribing $1,000 rooms in the new building were: Exchange club, Masonic order of De Molay, Order of the Mystic Smile and the Boyd Hillis Contracting Co. Gould H. Warren announced four $100 pledges toward a $1,000 Theodore Roosevelt room. Six more are needed.

Women Give Aid

The "Helpmates," Mrs. Dan Campbell's division of fighting women, brought in $3007 additional last night, bringing the total for the drive to $12,803.60. The boys brought in a total of $2443, it was announced. Robert Corry alone selling $605 in door-knob tags. The total number of contributors to the $275,000 Y. M. C. A. building fund now stands at 2178.

At the conclusion of last night's meeting Mr. Mogge was cheered for his services in bringing the big drive to a successful termination. Dr. John Anderson led the cheering. The meeting closed with a brief prayer and benediction.

Issues Statement

Chairman McDill today issued the following statement:

"The Y. M. C. A. executive committee desires to express deep appreciation of the splendid work of the division managers, team captains and every team worker in the campaign which has resulted to date in a total of $215,796 in subscriptions, many of which have indicated real personal sacrifice.

"But remember, all the strenuous work already done will be absolutely wasted unless the balance of $59,204 in subscriptions is secured before November 1, because all subscriptions are made conditional on the total of $275,000 being pledged by that date. Glendale must not let this opportunity go by to secure an adequate, debt-free, income-producing Y. M. C. A. building.

"Already eighty workers have pledged their continued efforts toward getting the balance needed. The executive committee urges each team to retain its organization in full fighting strength, including the 'Helpmates,' who reinforced the work so splendidly during the last two days, and carry on without letting up until we have actually gone over the top.

"The organization will meet for dinner at 6:15 o'clock Thursday night, in the Glendale Presbyterian church, for reports on work of today and tomorrow. Earnest, constant effort during these two days should bring in the bulk of the balance needed. Fast, hard work will make the task easy. The executive committee is pushing as hard as ever."

One Dead, Score Hurt As Train Hits Auto

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Sept. 24.—One man is known to be dead and a score of others reported injured, several seriously, following a crash on the Michigan Central railroad between the west bound

Detroit-Chicago flyer and an automobile on Hawthorne paper mill crossing east of here early today. The locomotive turned over twice, dragging nine steel Pullmans off the rails into the ditch. Arthur Adams, engineer, was killed. The fireman was taken to a hospital with injuries likely to prove fatal. Many passengers, thrown from their berths, suffered minor injuries.

Oil Your Car at 60 Miles an Hour!

YOU'RE rushing along in your Cleveland Six at 60 miles an hour. A squeak or rattle develops.

Do you stop and get out the grease gun? Or endure the noise until you get back home? Not at all!

You simply step on a convenient plunger and the noise is instantly silenced.

That's why the "One-Shot" Lubricating System ranks as one of the great advances in motor car design.

It enables you to lubricate all moving chassis parts without leaving the driver's seat.

It does more than save time and eliminate greasy hands or garments. It insures easier riding, smoother operation, longer car life and higher re-sale value—all because it makes chassis lubrication too simple and easy to neglect.

Because of the sheer value it represents, the 1925 Cleveland Six is winning new buyers at a rate that makes it one of the most popular six cylinder cars of the day.

Here are some of the reasons for that popularity.

Mileage Motor—a matchless master of hills with a flashing get-away in high gear.

Full Balloon Tires—extra comfort at no extra cost.

4-Wheel Brakes—of Cleveland Six design, optional at a moderate extra cost.

Beautiful Bodies—smart, durable and luxurious.

Realty Official Talks Before Local Board

C. C. Tatum of Los Angeles, national vice-president of the Association of Real Estate Boards spoke to the Glendale Realty Board at its weekly luncheon today, relating his recent tour of the northwest when he attended the national convention of Real Estate dealers in Yakima, Wash. Mr. Tatum described the convention and pointed out the many advantages real estate dealers gained from attending such by the personal contact with dealers from every part of the nation. He closed his talk with an appeal for all realtors of Glendale and the south to attend the state convention of the Real Estate association which is to be held in Pasadena in October.

Great Convention

Southern California should have one of the greatest, if not the greatest, convention ever held west of the Mississippi, Mr. Tatum declared, and the realty boards of Southern California should join with a full attendance.

Plans were discussed by the local board for the part Glendale is to take in the state convention. H. L. Finlay urged local members to attend the convention in as large a number as possible in order that Glendale might compete for the attendance prize.

L. H. Meyers asked for members to give their machines in order that the caravan of northern real estate dealers, which will start from Sacramento, may be met at Burbank and escorted to Pasadena. Fifteen machines were offered quickly and the dealers will first be entertained by Glendale people.

Glendale Products

On motion of J. W. Boland it was decided that suitable refreshments would be provided and served in the Huntington hotel during the convention. Glendale products will be used and they will be served by a bevy of Glendale girls.

The realty board plans to work intensively for the bond issue election, to be held here Tuesday and display advertisements will be inserted in the local papers Monday afternoon, according to plans submitted by a committee headed by W. C. Casselman.

New York—Meusel walked. Terry hit into a double play, Maranville to Grimm. Wilson hit a home run into the right field stands. Jackson doubled. Gowdy was purposely passed. Barnes popped to Grimm. One run, two hits.

Sixth Inning

Pittsburgh—Traynor out, Terry to Kelly. Jackson threw out Maranville. Barnes tossed out Grimm. No runs, no hits.

New York—Lindstrom beat out an infield hit. Young sacrificed, Traynor to Grimm. Wright threw out Kelly. Meusel was purposely passed. Terry singled to right, scoring Lindstrom, Meusel going to third. Wilson was safe when Grimm dropped Traynor's throw and Meusel scored, Terry going to third. On an attempted double steal, Terry scored while Wilson was being tagged out, Smith to Wright to Maranville. Three runs; two hits, one error.

Seventh Inning

Pittsburgh—Smith hit a home run into the right field stands. Mueller batted for Yde and was out. Kelly to Terry. Bigbee walked. Carey filed to Young. Moore forced Bigbee, Jackson to Kelly. One run, one hit.

New York—Morrison now pitching for Pittsburgh. Jackson walked and was forced by Gowdy. Traynor to Maranville. Barnes tried to sacrifice and rolled a slow ball down the third base line which Traynor returned to Smith. Gowdy leisurely went to second and Smith threw out Barnes at first. Lindstrom fanned. No runs, no hits.

Eighth Inning

Pittsburgh—Wright filed to Meusel. Traynor sent a fly to Wilson. Maranville out, Kelly to Terry. No runs, no hits.

New York—Wright threw out Young and Kelly. Traynor tossed out Meusel. No runs, no hits.

Ninth Inning

Pittsburgh—Grimm out Kelly to Terry. Smith hit another home run into right field stands. Burns batted for Morrison and out to Terry, unassisted. Bigbee got a hit to deep short. Carey out to Terry, unassisted. One run, two hits.

VOTE YES ON ALL BONDS

NEXT TUESDAY SEPT. 30th

PROPOSITION NO. 5
BRIDGES

The safety of lives and property is the demand for your affirmative vote on this issue. It is a matter of public record that the bridge over the Verdugo Wash at Pacific Avenue has been condemned for heavy loads for many months. In fact it is so unsafe that a stream of any size would quite likely make it totally unfit for use. The bridge at North Louise Street is in practically the same condition. It is felt that both structures are too far gone to warrant the expenditure of money in repairs and that the only solution is for new structures that will serve these communities for many years.

VOTE YES on No. 5 on the ballot.

PROPOSITIONS NO. 6 AND NO. 7

In considering the importance of these two issues we cannot see how it is possible to separate them either in your thoughts or in your voting. Without water, there would be no need for distribution, and without adequate means of disposal, all the water in the world would be utterly useless.

Now if 50,000 people (our present population) uses 11,000,000 gallons per day, a normal daily average, a few minutes' calculation will show you how much water 75,000 people will need. Add to that the safety factor of five days' storage at the same rate plus a ten-hour fire flow of 12,000 gallons per minute. These requirements would make necessary a storage capacity of 60,000,000 gallons. Our total storage capacity is at present only 24,000,000 gallons. The figures above which represent our needs are the recommendations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This organization controls the policy governing fire insurance rates and if you ever expect to get a reduction in rate or even prevent an increase, it is just as important that our water production and storage facilities are adequate as it is for us to have more fire stations and equipment. A survey of the water bearing lands now owned by the city shows that they are not capable of sufficient additional development to meet the requirements of the next five years. Wisdom dictates the purchase of additional water bearing lands now before the price becomes prohibitive.

Vote YES on Nos. 6 and 7 on the ballot.

SECRETARY DISAPPEARS
ANAHEIM, Sept. 24.—When a list of members of the local Ku Klux Klan came into the hands of the U. S. A. club of this city, which is opposed to the secret order, Louis Artau, said to be secretary of the Klan, disappeared, and a search has been instituted for him. Artau was a local music teacher.

YOUNGEST EAGLE SCOUT
FULLERTON, Sept. 24.—Sanford Horstman, aged 12, of this city, claims to be the youngest Eagle Scout in the world, having successfully passed his examinations last Friday. He had to wait until he attained the age of 12 years and 9 months before taking the final test.

ATTRACTIONS OF WINTER
LAKE ARROWHEAD, Sept. 24.—For those who crave the coolness of winter, with all of the delightful features absent, the Bear valleys at this season offer cold nights, with open hearth fires, hiking in a radiant, but none too warm, sun, and fishing.

MAY BE PRISON WARDEN
RIVERSIDE, Sept. 24.—According to information circulated here, J. R. Gabbert, re-elected president of the Southern California Editorial association, and publisher of The Enterprise, has been tendered the position of warden at San Quentin prison, which pays $10,000 a year. Gabbert has been a staunch supporter of Governor Friend W. Richardson, and it is said Gabbert may accept the offer.

SIGNATURE REQUIRED
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 24.—Officers here are searching for L. A. Bearden, oil worker, whose signature is needed by his brothers at Wichita Falls, Tex., to enable them to sell oil lands worth a large fortune, it is said. Bearden sometimes goes under the names of Jack Hill and Jack Dale.

INDIAN FIGHTER DEAD
RIVERSIDE, Sept. 24.—Captain Ausburn Conklin, aged 88, Indian fighter and member of Custer's forces, died at the Riverside hospital after residence here for thirty years. He was one of Uncle Sam's oldest pensioners, being a veteran of the Civil war. The G. A. R. has charge of his funeral services today.

Permanent roads are a good investment
—not an expense

Road Building
Far Behind the Automobile

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Because of this the modern paved highway has become an economic necessity.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile. The great majority of our highways are as out of date as the single-track, narrow gauge railway of fifty years ago.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.

ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Keim
Receive Congratulations
On Golden Wedding

The celebration of their golden wedding anniversary which was held in their home at 342 West California street Monday, September 22, 1924 in the afternoon and evening will long be remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Keim. During the afternoon, neighbors and friends from many surrounding towns and cities gathered to wish them happiness. The ladies of the Sisterhood Class of the First Methodist church arrived in a body and as they entered the house sang, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," and the class presented Mr. and Mrs. Keim with a large gold plate. Mrs. E. Hoskyn then read the following poem which she also wrote:

OUR GOLDEN WEDDING DAY
It comes in September, is as pleasant as in May,
We were married in Salinas in 1874,
And this our golden wedding day,
Comes to us in Glendale in 1924.

Through all these years since first we wed,
We've climbed life's hill together.
And many a happy day, Dan,
We've had with one another.

But now we are getting old, Dan,
Our hair is turning gray,
We've had our joys and sorrows,
Since our first wedding day.

And now we've topped the hill, Dan,
We are going down the way,
We will pledge our faith anew,
On our golden wedding day.

That we'll be true to God,
And true to one another,
And pledge our faith to Him
To meet in Heaven, each other.

The members of the W. C. T. U., of which body Mrs. Keim has been a member for nearly fifty years, came in a body and sang "The Jubilee Bells," and then the president gave a talk and presented Mr. and Mrs. Keim with gold bud vases. The following poem was written by Mrs. Ruby Smart, former W. C. T. U. president:

THE GOLDEN WEDDING RING
The years have worn the wedding ring,
Which pledged you young and binds you old,
It's proved itself no gilded thing,
But to its center gold, pure gold.

The love it pledged these fifty years,
Has stood the test and proven true,
Your cares and toils and mingled tears,
Have often tried it through and through.

Tis true the ring has thinner grown,
And thinner grown the shrunken hand,
But that first love which made you one,
Is no worn and shrunken band.

What if the ring is thin and old,
It hath caught settings on the way,
The eyes of children stud the gold,
And sparkle on the band today.

What if the care that made them strong,
Wore down the gold band year by year,
Today they give more than song,
And honeymoon and wedding cheer.

The widening circle, growing still,
Of children's children more and more,
Your golden wedding goblets fill
With thankful gladness running o'er.

Your trembling hand may never lift
This side the grave the diamond cup,
But we believe that He who gave
The golden goblet which you sup,
Will offer you with His own hand
The jeweled cup of home and love,
Immortalized in those bright lands,
Awaiting you in realms above.

In those bright realms of peace and calm,
Where troubled waves sink to rest,
There comes the marriage of the Lamb,
And perfect love's eternal feast.

From Former Classmates
Members of the Sunday school class of the Methodist church in Los Angeles, of which Mrs. Keim was a member thirteen years ago, to the number of ten, attended the anniversary gathering Monday and presented her with a huge wicker basket painted in gold and filled with beautiful yellow chrysanthemums. They sang with Mrs. Keim the song, "Building, Daily Building," a song which was sung in the classroom each Sunday.

Most of the relatives gathered for the evening, at the conclusion of which a little stunt was given by the children and grandchildren. Their daughter, Miss Mary Z. Keim, came in and presented Mr. and Mrs. Keim with two tickets to Catalina Island, then the other daughters, Mrs. Sarah Thomas and Mrs. Della McClellan, of La Verne, came in and gave them some gold coins, stating they would need some money on the trip. Their grandson, Ellis Thomas gave Mr. Keim an old fashioned silk stovepipe hat, and Miss Lorraine Keim, a granddaughter, gave Mrs. Keim a poke bonnet made of pink crepe paper, stating that they would need new hats on their trip. Their smaller grandchild, Wilbur McClellan gave them a package of Gold Dust and a mystic rag, stating they would probably need to keep clean while away, and this ended one of the happiest events in their married life.

Boys' Chorus to Be Here Friday Night

The Whitney Boys' Chorus, featuring a group of juvenile artists, is to entertain Glendaleans Friday night at the First Congregational church on North Central and West Wilson avenues. The affair will be under the auspices of the church choir. There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken. Chorus numbers, and specialties by Bennie Yost, tenor; Clinton Hubbard, whistler; John Painter, organist; Clemens twins, cornetist and trombonist; Coddington brothers, pianists; Ebb Shaw and Dick Webster, flutist and violinist will compose the program. Members of the Pomona male quartet will also sing. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

"FALL OPENING SALE"
OF
202 WEST BROADWAY

A Plain Statement of My Business Plans

Gentlemen:—In extending my compliments to the public of Glendale I deem it a pleasure in announcing the commencement of my FALL SALE, in order to meet old friends, and at the same time to get acquainted with new trade, which is only natural on the part of any commercial institution that wishes to forge ahead. I am not compelled to advertise heavily, in order to do business, as this institution enjoys the patronage and confidence of one of the largest and most exclusive clienteles throughout Glendale, which is the result of honest methods in the past, accomplished through my unswerving principles of integrity, reliability, fair and conscientious dealings with the public of this community. It is my ambition to build up here a tailoring business equal to any on the coast, and I know I can do it in only one way—MAKE EVERY CUSTOMER A BOOSTER BY GIVING PERFECT FITTING CLOTHES that will stand out as an advertisement to his relatives and friends. Even if I lose money on every order, it will pay me to have a large number of men in Glendale wearing my clothes. So this is the only favor I am going to ask my first customers in return for saving them a lot of money. TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT ME.

GRAND FALL OPENING OFFER
$33.50—For Three Days Only, Thursday, Friday and Saturday—$33.50

BUILT TO ORDER

Remember, Three Days
Only—
Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Remember, we back every garment that goes out of this shop to make good—if you are not satisfied with the fit, appearance, or quality of tailoring, we either refund your money or gladly remeasure you for another suit if agreeable to you.

Actually less than ready-mades. Look around Glendale, notice the $40.00 and $50.00 price tags on ordinary ready-to-wear clothes. Think of getting our high class made to your individual measure clothes at prices actually a good deal less than hand-me-downs.

A rare treat is in store for the good dressers of Glendale, conservative as well as dashing styles for all tastes.

MEN'S SUITS TAILORED
$33.50

As the regular price of these suits is $55.00, the price is limited to three days only. Every garment will be richly and superbly tailored by experts. Perfect fit, painstaking workmanship and absolute satisfaction guaranteed. Limit for THREE DAYS—ONE SUIT, ONE OVERCOAT to each customer.
Wonderful showing of fine fabrics.

The line of woollens we are offering the men of this city is varied enough in pattern and color to suit the most careful dresser. The quality will appeal to men who expect a suit or overcoat to give long service. You can select from an endless variety of serge, tweeds, choicest worsteds, and silk mixed novelties. Your money refunded if we fail to please you.

Some of you have never been satisfied with the way your clothes have been made, and keep continually going from shop to shop. Pay us one visit and your quest will end. We demonstrate and prove to you the superiority of the clothes we tailor.

Women know good woollens. Let your wife, sister or sweetheart help you select.

We feature clothes for men who do not order suits every season. We build clothes to last—to stand up under rough usage. That is why we are going to do the largest business in Glendale.

A well dressed man that really wants to appear at his best would never think of buying a suit of clothes off a rack in some store. Custom Tailored garments are the only ones accepted by men who know. Your position, your success in life depends upon the clothes you wear. They must fit, they must have the individuality which is yours alone. Being well dressed is an asset, an investment, so keep looking your best. Remember, a good appearance helps you win your way in the world. It is more important than being good looking.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Overweight And Stings

Dear Doctor:—Please send me your pamphlet on reducing. I am 70 years old, in good health for that age, but am so fleshy I just can't walk. I puff and blow. I can walk around the house and do enough work for three, but I can't walk otherwise and I can't stand a corset. I got a reducing corset—big, heavy thing that has rubber across the abdomen and straps pulling me down. When I wear it to town or church it makes me so tired I would rather wash and scrub, and it doesn't do me any good. I have awfully big legs and hips and stomach. I have a good appetite, too good, but I work all the time as I live on a farm and I have to look after the chickens; and my husband and boy are in the field most of the time.

"I weighed 160 pounds the last time I was weighed and that was some time ago. I think I weigh more now. I am five feet, six or seven inches in height. My flesh is a burden to me. I don't see how I can stand it.

"I would like you to tell me what to do for swelling when I get stung by a bee or an ant? I do not mind the sting so much but the swelling is so awful. I got stung by a hornet on the thumb while picking grapes. I went on picking until I got my bucket full. When I got to the house my hand and arms were swollen to my elbow. I tried everything, but the swelling didn't leave for three or four days. I also got stung by a wasp about two inches above the elbow and didn't sleep a wink all night. The leg swelled to my knee and below my ankle and it seemed like the skin would burst.

"I take a glass of water with about one-half teaspoonful of salt in it each morning as I can't have a movement of the bowels otherwise. I am not fond of sweets. I like vegetables, potatoes and meat and fruit. I don't care for milk, only in the winter when it is real cold; neither do I like tea and coffee. Enclosed is ten cents in stamps. Mrs. G."

I think you must be over 160 pounds in weight, too, Mrs. G. In fact, I know you are. The chances are that you are over 200 now, since it is some time since you were weighed. Oftentimes persons will not be weighed for years, will gain at the rate of 20 pounds a year, and still think that their weight is what it used to be before putting on the 50 to 100 pounds!

I am giving practically all of your letter in the column because I want to show, how even with a great deal of work one can be as healthy and well as one has a knowledge of food values. You are what we call toxicemic. Mrs. G.—chronically poisoned, undoubtedly caused by your over eating and constipation, and that is probably the reason you have such abnormal swellings when you are stung. Occasionally these little beasts that sting carry infectious germs and the abnormal symptoms are due to infections. I suggest the next time you have to do with the business end of a bee or an ant, that you suck out the poison as much as you can, and then apply iodine followed up by hot applications. Put your foot or hand in as hot water as you can stand, for 20 minutes or so, four or five times a day. Ice bound on the affected part, while it would seem to have the contrary effect, apparently is effective in some cases.

"Did you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope as well as your ten cents in stamps? If you did not, I am afraid the reducing booklet was not sent. Mrs. G., because I have so many thousands of letters that the office would have to have extra help to address envelopes. That makes the boss peevish. However, I'll take no chances in losing you. I'm sending you one myself, also an article on constipation. Let us know how you get along.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is one of the best for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of the paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. Please send me the name of the answer in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the 5 c. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Young Reader: "My rubber raincoat is badly soiled. May I clean it with gasoline?"

Answer: No, never clean rubber of any sort with gasoline, benzine, alcohol, chloroform or turpentine. This is the only way: Lay the raincoat on a table and scrub both sides of it with soap and warm (not hot) water, using a soft brush such as a nail brush. Wipe off with clear water and hang out to dry (do not wring).

Bride: "My husband is fond of coconut layer cake, but he says the coconut is dry. Is there anything I can do to make it more tender?"

Answer: Coconut, like all dried foods, should have the moisture that has been evaporated returned to it before using. One good way is to pour sweet milk over the desiccated coconut (enough to cover) and let stand in a cool place for two hours, then drain in a wire strainer and press as dry as possible. Use on the cake after treating in this manner and you will not find it dry or tough.

M. A.: Could you tell me how to remove a burnt spot from a light-colored silk crepe dress?"

Answer: If it is really a burnt spot, I fear there is nothing to be done, as even slight scorching weakens the fiber of silks and woolsens, and gives them a tendency to break; but when not too deep they may be treated by wetting at once with glycerine and letting it remain for half an hour before washing out; or by rubbing very lightly with a piece of white flannel wrung very dry out of cold water and slightly moistened with glycerine. You might try this now. Glycerine stains can be sponged out with alcohol.

Mrs. M. R. in reply to question asked by E. B. A.: I had a colored Canton crepe dress which was badly waterstained. This is the method I used: I put it on a narrow ironing board and sponged it with clear, cold water, taking care that every bit of the dress was gone over. It was then put on a hanger to dry, and afterward pressed on the wrong side. The result was, it looked like a new dress. That was a year ago, and it has not waterstained since."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend, for sharing this practical hint. I am sure there are many who will benefit by your clear directions.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department, will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street address, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Sounds Keynote

"Harmony" was the keynote sounded yesterday afternoon at the first meeting of the Grand View Parent-Teacher association, for the coming year, by the president, Mrs. John P. Ogle. In a brief greeting Mrs. Ogle cleverly gave a worthwhile thought for every letter in the word "Harmony."

She said: "H for helpfulness or helpfulness; A for agreement; R for refinement or right; M for many more members; O for organization; N for needs of others; Y, yes, you! making matters so personal that each member may have a hand in all work to be done."

Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, was a special speaker. He brought an enthusiastic prediction of the working out of plans for relieving the congestion in the schools through the coming bond election. He made a plea for the support and co-operation of the parents.

Greetings were given by Miss Vera Sinclair, principal, who explained the adoption of the half-day sessions to relieve congestion.

Vocal solos were delightfully given by Mrs. Farris She Sang "Rain" and "The Lilac Tree." During the meeting a committee was appointed to investigate the traffic problem of the school. In the executive board session earlier in the afternoon it was decided to hold a Halloween reception in October for the teachers. Light refreshments were served by the mothers.

John Felton and Russell Lant.

Cerritos P.-T. A.

Inspiration for the coming year's work was found in abundance yesterday afternoon at the first meeting of the Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher association at the school. Mrs. A. L. Kent, president, presided.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, prominent in city and district Parent-Teacher association activities, and chairman of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle, was honored speaker. She made a plea for the mothers to affiliate with the Parent-Teacher association and become acquainted with the teachers of their children. Other speakers were: Mrs. Ernest Tucker on the bonds; Mrs. C. D. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations; Mrs. E. B. Moore, past president of the federation.

A delightful feature was the singing of Kathleen Lockhart Manning, talented vocalist, pianist and composer of Los Angeles. Mrs. Manning received a most flattering ovation. She sang a group of five songs, two of which were original nursery rhymes. Her first group included "Night Wind" (Farley); "Obstination" (Fontenailles); and "I Passed By Your Window" (May Brahe). The two original compositions were "The Culpit" and "Saturday."

Officers of the association are: Mrs. A. L. Kent, president; Mrs. H. F. Croft, vice-president; Mrs. George Emerson, secretary; Mrs. Osborne Garber, treasurer; Miss Edna B. Heacock, historian; Miss Hazel Wilder, auditor. Committee chairmen made yesterday are: Mrs. J. A. Grant, membership; Mrs. H. Reeve Darling, program and publicity; Mrs. E. B. Moore, finance; Mrs. Robert Nutt, courtesy; Mrs. W. H. Flynn, visiting; Mrs. Irene McReynolds, playground; Mrs. W. E. Woodbury, home economics; Mrs. Walter R. Robinson, better films; Mrs. Marguerite Wilsie, patriotism; Mrs. Herbert Coffman, philanthropy; Mrs. G. F. Small, education, emblems and magazines; Mrs. Julia Brown, kindergarten; Miss May C. Aldrich, parliamentary; Mrs. H. F. Croft, child labor and legislation; and juvenile protection; Miss Edna B. Heacock, child hygiene; Mrs. C. L. Brenkman, community life.

Plans are being made to have small children cared for during the association meetings in order that the mothers can attend.

Wed in Glendale

Mrs. Martha E. Fobes of Birmingham, Iowa, and John S. Bales of Corona, were married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Tuesday, September 23, 1924, at the home of Rev. C. R. Norton, 801 East Wilson avenue. Rev. Norton was most happy as the officiant, for both Mrs. Fobes and Mr. Bales are from the part of Iowa, where Mrs. Norton lived as a girl and where she is now visiting. The marriage marked reflected romance of years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Bales are to reside in Corona.

Club Card Party

The ways and means committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club will give a card party at the clubhouse tomorrow afternoon, the games to begin promptly at 2 o'clock. Bridge will be the game of the afternoon and at the conclusion of the games prizes will be awarded and refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Fred Abbey. Mesdames F. C. Card and C. L. Smith will be hostesses.

Gives Luncheon

Mrs. William E. Persell of 1400 North Columbus avenue, gave a bridge luncheon yesterday, honoring her niece, Miss Mary Rice of Portland, Oregon. Columbia and Los Angeles roses were used in the decorative scheme. Guests were Dr. Elizabeth Early and niece from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Mrs. Frank Banham, Mrs. Percy Hazelton, Mrs. A. K. Jenkins and Mrs. M. Tabler of Los Angeles.

Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. H. Reeve Darling of 1519 South Brand boulevard is to be hostess Friday afternoon at a bridge tea at the Oakmont Country club, complimenting her sister, Mrs. Walter Payear Casey, who, with her three children, came from Brawley for a visit at the Darling home. Mrs. Darling's mother, Mrs. Milton H. La Petra of Covina, will also be an honored guest. Other guests will be members of a card club, composed of women living in Covina, Azusa and Glendale.

Rhoda Banquet

Rhoda club members held a very successful banquet at the clubrooms in the Glendale Presbyterian church last night, sixty young women being present. The clubroom was artistically decorated in flowers of pastel shades, the tables being arranged in star formation for the serving of the banquet. A four-course dinner was served by two young men of the church.

At the first table was seated Mrs. Joseph Rhodes, toastmistress; Miss Ramona French, president of the class, and those having a part on the program. The first number on the program was the introduction of Mrs. Rhodes by Miss French. Following are the other numbers on the program: Piano solo by Miss Margaret Jones; symposium, "Why Every Girl Needs the Rhoda Club," "Gustatory Possibilities," by Miss Phyllis Baker; vocal solo by Miss Mildred Sooy; "Sociability," Miss Dorothy Jean Perry; reading, Miss Anita Fletcher; "Bible Study," Miss Helen Stout.

Mrs. M. H. Perry, who is in charge of the classes, outlined the course of study for the winter's work, and this concluded the evening's meeting. The Rhoda club meets every Tuesday night in the Glendale Presbyterian church clubrooms and all business girls are invited to attend. Dinner is served at 6:15.

Halls Honored

The occasion of their twentieth wedding anniversary, September 23, 1924, was the incentive for a surprise party given for Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hall at their home on Linden avenue, last night, when about twenty-five members of the Rebekah and Odd Fellows lodges gathered at their home.

Guests assembled at the Hall home following the Rebekah drill practice and spent the evening in a social manner. A linen table cloth was given Mr. and Mrs. Hall by the Zuni lodge, an auxiliary to the Orientals, and the napkins to match the table cloth were given by the Orientals. Refreshments, taken by the self-invited guests, were served later in the evening.

With Mrs. Moore

Mrs. E. B. Moore entertained members of the Mary Jane Gillette tent, Daughters of Veterans, in her home at 1259 South Maryland avenue, last night. Members decided to try to secure a hall in which to hold their meetings hereafter. The next meeting of this organization will be held October 7, and the place of meeting will be announced at a later date. The Nimble Fingers group of the tent will hold an all-day meeting Friday, in the home of Mrs. Gimmell at 204 East Cypress street.

Plan For Dinner

Arrangements are complete for the service of a five annual dinner of the Women's Foreign Missionary society at the First Methodist church Thursday night, at 6:30 o'clock. A large gathering is anticipated and the public is invited to participate in the good fellowship. Newcomers and strangers are especially invited to attend. Plates are 50 cents and children 25 cents, the money to be used for the furthering of the missionary work.

Benefit Affair

A card party, given for the benefit of the Altar society of the Catholic church, will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Brethell home, at 709 East Doran street. The affair was a great success, both socially and financially. Five hundred was played, eight tables being filled. Mrs. J. Chappin made highest score and was awarded first prize. Mrs. Long was second, and Mrs. Killinger third. Refreshments were served.

Manse Wedding

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, officiated at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Tuesday, September 23, 1924, at the marriage of Miss Mae Wilson of Lennox, Iowa, and Robert A. Bengt of the United States Navy. The ceremony, which took place at the manse, 121 South Cedar street, was witnessed by Dorothy C. Allen of Alhambra, and Dee Beach of Los Angeles.

Group Will Meet

The Margaret Locke Coates group of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church is to meet Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Jarl at 315 West Hawthorne street.

Women's Law Class

Glendale women interested in the fundamentals of parliamentary law are invited to join the class meeting at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the public library. Mrs. P. S. McNutt is the instructor.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Sept. 24.—Have you a little dahlia in your home? E. C. Martian of West Merton avenue has one, none other than his infant son Douglas, after whom he has named the "Douglas" dahlia, a beautiful seedling he originated this year.

Mr. Martian has been very successful raising dahlias during the present season, despite the dry weather. His garden has attracted much attention and many have commented on his floral creations. Several of his plants are the developments of the famous J. J. Broomall of Dahlia drive, Eagle Rock, but those which give him the most pleasure are his own seedlings.

Eagle Rock residents looked with interest and satisfaction at the sixteen inch water mains that have arrived on the scene. Particularly is their arrival of interest to residents in the hill sections, for their installation means an end to the inconvenience occasioned by faulty distribution.

The sixteen-inch mains will connect with the Annandale system and will enable residents to be supplied with sufficient pressure for all usages. The city work crew has begun installation at the east end of Colorado boulevard.

pronounced success of the various sections this year. The Ladies' Aid society has raised more than twice as much money this year as last year. The Home Missionary society has been able to contribute $600 besides that, from the Ladies' Aid, and general benevolences have amounted to $1500.

Judge Harry D. Archbald of the Juvenile Court will be one of the speakers at "Fathers and Sons" banquet tomorrow night at the Congregational church under the auspices of the Outlook club. This is a community gathering and is open to all people of whatever faith or sect.

Miss Marguerite Brinegar has arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Brinegar, of Hermosa avenue, from Denver, Colo., where she has been spending the summer.

family, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kendig and little daughter, have returned from a pleasant trip in the east, during which they visited their old homes at Newcastle, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D. C. At the latter place they enjoyed their constitutional prerogative of shaking hands with the President.

Women of the Christian church are making preparations for a bazaar which will be held this fall, probably the latter part of November. It was announced today. To make ready for the affair, the Ladies' Aid society will hold meetings each Thursday in place of twice a month.

Walter Hering of Greeley, Colorado, is visiting with his aunt, Mrs. R. S. Townsend of 521 Orange Grove avenue. His mother is a guest of Mrs. Townsend's sister, Mrs. C. G. Paul, of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Offill of Western avenue have left for Tennessee by motor. They are planning to enter college.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Sept. 24.—A new water well is being brought in at Summit Glen on the eastern edge of Tujunga to supply a new subdivision owned by Fred La Cour. Water will also be piped to the new auto camp at the summit, where W. W. Meadows has a grove of trees suitable to the purpose. Saturday night dances and barbecues have been held there for some time. Mr. Meadows plans to put in a lawn and build several small cottages for the use of auto campers, who have been using the place at a nominal charge for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wright recently celebrated their thirty-ninth wedding anniversary at the Tujunga Community church. The wedding ceremony was re-enacted. J. M. Goode accompanying the groom and George Aiken of Tujunga giving the bride away. Mrs. Schoch played the wedding march. Dr. Stotts extended congratulations on behalf of the large congregation. Rev. H. L. Farr presented a basket of coins to the couple with which they were to choose a gift. The occasion was also the seventy-fifth birthday of Mr. Wright. Refreshments were served.

Tony Downs and Jack Baumgartner have opened a new restaurant at 129 West Michigan avenue. Lunch counter and table service is planned. The local Parent-Teacher association has planned to have Mark Keppel of the board of education present at the next meeting of the association, the third Wednesday in October.

Mrs. Stevens of the Tujunga school has resigned her position to accompany her husband to the northern part of the state, where he has taken a position. Miss Frances Davis of Los Angeles has been appointed to take the place on the teaching staff, taking charge of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades English, reading and spelling.

Helen Reynolds Heads Teachers' Choral Club
Election of officers for the coming year was the chief event of the first regular meeting of the Glendale City Teachers' Choral club Tuesday night at the Glendale Intermediate school. The officers are: Miss Helen Reynolds, president; Miss Olive Taylor, secretary; Miss Hazel Flynn, treasurer; Miss Daisy Kearn, librarian. The Choral club will hold its meetings Tuesday nights during the coming winter at the Glendale Avenue school. Miss Elsa Brenaman, supervisor of music in the city schools, is the director, and Miss Gladys Sharpe the accompanist.

C. of C. Directors Ask Big Vote on Tuesday

Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in weekly session last night adopted a resolution calling on citizens to vote at the bond election next Tuesday. Although the chamber has not expressed its opinion as to the individual issues the directors explain that it is up to the people themselves to determine which, if not all, of the improvements are needed. The resolution follows: "We urge that every citizen of Glendale vote at the bond election to be held Tuesday, September 30, 1924."

"The Citizens' Bond committee, composed of twenty-nine members of the various group organizations of this city, has met and labored to present to the people of Glendale a series of proposed improvements, all for the betterment of our city and subject to the approval of its citizens by their constitutional right—that of the ballot. "We endorse the principle of a progressive city which necessarily means bonding for absolutely needed public improvements. "We do not express our opinion as to individual issues. The purpose of the election is for the people to determine themselves which, if not all, of the improvements contemplated are needed."

Verdugo Woodlands to Aid In Bond Parade

The Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association will swell the ranks of the municipal bond parade starting at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 29, declares H. A. Graves, president of that body.

"These bonds will provide us with the necessary station for our fire apparatus," he says, "which as we all know is now housed in undesirable quarters. They will assure the city of Glendale, of which we like to think our region is the best portion, an up-to-date fire alarm system, admittedly badly needed. These bonds will aid in making our police department more efficient, pay for bridges over the Verdugo Wash, provide a civic center, obtain water improvements and other things absolutely essential to our welfare.

"We cannot afford to remain in the background nor allow personal prejudice to defeat these necessary improvements, therefore every member of the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association and every property holder in our beautiful valley should put a good strong shoulder to the wheel and push and vote for these bonds, which will amount to less than 18 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. Get busy, friends, and put 'em over."

NOTICE OF MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS OF THE McLAUGHLIN GLASS COMPANY, a corporation, called by the Board of Directors to Consider Increase in the Capital Stock of said Corporation.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that under and pursuant to a resolution adopted on the 19th day of August, 1924, of the McLaughlin Glass Company, a meeting of the stockholders of said corporation will be held on the 27th day of October, 1924, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P. M., of said day, at the office of the Company, Room 317 H. W. Hellman Building, Los Angeles, California, being the principal place of business of said Corporation.

The object and purpose of said meeting is to consider and act upon the proposition of increasing the capital stock of the McLaughlin Glass Company $100,000.00 in excess of its present capital stock of $100,000.00, making a total capital stock of $200,000.00, to be represented by 1200 shares of common stock of the par value of $100.00 per share, and 800 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100.00 per share. Said preferred shares to be on a parity with and contain the same preferences as the present preferred shares of said corporation. DATED: This 19th day of August, 1924, and published by order of the Board of Directors. C. E. NORTON, Secretary, McLaughlin Glass Co. Aug-20-27Sep-3-10-17-24Oct-1-15-22

CHAPTER LX.
By previous arrangement, she accompanied Mrs. Rodney Spaulding to the Charity Bazaar the next afternoon. Craig's mother had done some of the hardest and heaviest of the work of preparation; Hilary had seen her walking magnificently about the big empty space of the Grand Central Palace before ever an inch of bunting or a plank of the booths had been put up. She had seen Mrs. Spaulding's florid face get redder, and her dark firm mouth more firm, and the widow's bonnet slip farther over her beetling eyebrows.

Now all was beauty and excitement: Russian music, Russian dancers, booths of Armenian, Polish, Balkan wares; photographs, souvenirs, statistics everywhere of the great need and suffering across the world.

Hundreds of persons were drifting about; voices and feet sounded together; Hilary and her companion worked their way between great shining new motorcars, looking inconspicuous enough here on this second floor, in their ribbons and rosettes, between palms and pillars, in a jumble of odors, colors, and noises.

Dora was already at their own booth, busy and happy and filled with importance, in a moving circle of other furred pretty women who were picking things up and putting them down again, scribbling under the counters for strings or lost lists, and making amateurish apologies for amateurish wrapped parcels.

An interested public identified them, rightly or wrongly. That was the singer, that was the writer, that was the actress, and the saucy-looking lady in the enormous black hat was Mrs. Reggy Vanderwort.

The senior Mrs. Spaulding immediately assumed the management of her special group, and Hilary was as usual her aide. Young Mrs. Jeffries joined them. "Fifteen minutes too late, Hilary! Kronski was here for a few minutes; I hadn't met him before. Dora took him a'out. I think he took ten chances on the Packard—fancy! But isn't he nice?"

"Very," Hilary said, the world turning suddenly dark. If Mrs. Spaulding had not delayed at the lunch-table—

She glanced at Butterfly, who was evidently in glorious spirits, and her own sank—sank.

Louise Jeffries, junior, a gold-maned child in a brown coat and hat, and her smaller brother Timmy, were favorites of Hilary's, and they immediately attached themselves to her; Timmy frankly in hope of amusement, but the more diplomatic Louise with offers of help. They tangled strings, bumped into customers, mislaid small articles, and wept when their elders chanced to step on their feet or bump their elbows.

"Come!" Hilary commanded them suddenly, "we'll make the grand tour!"

"Oh, Hilary, don't let them bother you!" their mother said. "I like it!" She really did like it. Children's company was always strangely soothing to Hilary, and with a confiding small glove in each hand she led them about for almost an hour. Their comments could not hurt her; they were blessedly uninterested in anything but themselves.

What did interest them surprised her. A young man in a painting show cards, in a retired corner behind packing-cases, held them in fascination. And Timmy remained rapt at a blank, deserted dusty window for some five minutes, enthralled by a bird's-eye view of Park Avenue traffic.

They discovered treasure: a length of chain, a package of blank cards, three little empty screw-top wooden boxes in which bottles of cologne had been shipped; and over these they held grave consultations. Timmy lost his gloves and found them again, and Louise entertained for a few moments fears of a nose-bleed.

Hilary was sitting upon a packing case, carefully dividing between them the tablets from a package of silver-wrapped chocolate, and wondering how Louise could stand this sort of thing all day long, every day, when Konrad came up to her.

She had no warning. She stood up, smiling, and brushing the last silver foil from her hands.

"So, I find you!" he said. "Were you looking for me?" "I have been here before; did the butterfly not tell you?"

"Oh, I knew that!" Hilary smiled. "But I did not know that you might come back!" She introduced the children, who bobbed him curtsies, and stood watching and smiling as Konrad conversed with them gravely.

"So I am not to be forgiven?"

"We are not to be friends!" he said, straightening.

"Oh, friends always, I hope!" Hilary said, trembling, but looking straight at him from under the sweep of her black hat.

Konrad took her hand; he was close to her. They were fortunately in a quiet backwater, be-

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"Saintly Sinners," now showing nightly at Horace Murphy's tent theater in Casa Verdugo, is a play of deep human feeling, that plumbs the heart and brings a tear to many eyes, though it is a "happy ending" drama and the vein of comedy that runs through it is delightful. The location is at the corner of Central avenue and Stocker street.

As the seating capacity of the tent is limited and thousands will want to see this old favorite, Manager J. A. Menard of Mahurin's Players urges Glendaleans to purchase their tickets in advance at J. J. Schulte's drug store, 251 North Brand boulevard. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

"Saintly Sinners" is one of the greatest plays of the day, made famous throughout the East by George Harrison, its author-producer, and soon to be done in pictures by the Fox Film Co., according to Mr. Menard.

hind booths and packing cases, and so unobserved.

"My child," he said in a concerned voice, "are you so unhappy?"

"I—I am not happy!" Hilary stammered, her barriers falling.

"For yourself, or for the butterfly?"

"For us both!"

"Hilary, will you believe that you have a friend who would die to make you happy again?" the man asked, after a silence.

Hilary flashed him a grateful smile, her lashes wet.

Indeed I will believe that, Konrad!

"And if I can do so, you will send for me from the ends of the earth to serve you?"

"My friend—" she faltered with trembling lips.

"And you have forgiven me?"

"Ah, Konrad, it's myself I can't forgive!"

"But why?" he asked. "Did you think that you—you of all the world, could live without love? And are you ashamed that you love?"

Hilary, looking down into the congested street that had so fascinated, and that was still fascinating, Timmy and Louise, half-turned to give him a shaky smile over her shoulder.

"No, I am not sorry. I am not ashamed!" she said.

"I have a present for you," Konrad said, putting his hand into the breast pocket of his great-coat. "It was my mother's. I wish you to have it—my good little stepmother!"

Deeply stirred, and shaken

THE GATEWAY

"Brains, beauty, poise, wit! What an asset the modern American 'single wife' would be in the diplomatic service!"

And so the magnetic phrase "Single Wives" was coined and applied to the First National Production, co-featuring Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills, which is scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Gateway Theater.

"Single Wives" is said to be a startling "expose" of modern marriage and the peculiar conditions that have developed within it. The phrase was coined to designate wives who feel the lure of external attractions, whose husbands have forgotten the art of courtship.

The story was originally written for the screen by Earl Hudson, author of "Sundown" and "For Sale," and was adapted by Marion Orth. It is said against an elaborate background of modern society. The settings are of exceptional beauty and with a supporting cast that well justifies the term "all-star."

The third corner of the triangle is played by Lou Tellegen, who as Martin Prayle nearly disrupts the domestic relations of the Jordans, played by Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills. Kathryn Williams, Phillips Smalley and Henry B. Walthall form another triangle which influences the life of the Jordans.

George Archambaud, whose "For Sale" and "The Common Law" were the sensations of the passing season, wielded the megaphone over "Single Wives" and has made of it a remarkable portrait of contemporary married life. It was made under the supervision of Earl Hudson.

with the first trembling beginning of happiness after anguish, Hilary unrolled the tissue-paper that wrapped it, and held in her palm an old-fashioned brooch: an oval of jet set with a pearl and surrounded by tiny pearls and by a discolored old gold filigree.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TICKLE BRUSH

"Ting-a-ling!" rang the telephone in Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one morning.

And when the rabbit gentleman answered he heard Mrs. Twisty-tail, the lady pig, talking at the other end of the wire.

"Oh, can you come over today, Nurse Jane?" squealed the lady pig. "We're going to have a picnic in the woods and we want you to be with us."

"This isn't Nurse Jane—this is Uncle Wiggily," spoke the bunny gentleman into the telephone. But I'll tell Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy about your picnic. It is kind of you to ask her to go."

"Oh, but I can't go, Wiggily!" cried Nurse Jane. "This is my dusting day, you know, and I haven't half finished dusting the parlor."

"Oh, never mind the dusting," laughed the bunny. "I'll do that. You skip along to Mrs. Twisty-tail's picnic."

"Will you be sure to dust the piano?" asked Nurse Jane. "Can I trust you to do the dusting well if I go?"

"Of course," promised the rabbit. "Give me the dusting brush and I'll make the piano so clean as never was!"

Nurse Jane gave him the feather duster and easily slipped over the fields to the pen house of the lady pig, and soon the two friends were on their way to the picnic in the woods.

Home by himself in his hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily said:

"There is no need to hurry in dusting the piano. I'll wait a bit."

And while he waited, meanwhile twinking his pink nose, along hopped Uncle Butter, the goat gentleman.

"Let's play a game of Scotch checkers," bleated Uncle Butter. "All right," said Uncle Wiggily. So he and the goat played Scotch checkers. They played two games and they played three games, and many more games until it was evening before they finished.

Up jumped Uncle Butter to trot home. Up jumped Uncle Wiggily to dust the piano, but it was too late! There was Nurse Jane, back from the picnic.

"Wiggily, did you dust the piano?" she asked.

"Oh, er—now—er—I meant to, but I forgot!" stammered the bunny gentleman. "I'll go dust it right away!"

"Oh, Wiggily! I am so disappointed! I am angry at you!" said Nurse Jane. "I shall not give you any buttered parsnips for supper, as I intended. Oh, how sad I am—and angry, too!"

Uncle Wiggily was sorry he had forgotten to dust the piano. He took the feather brush and, hopping into the room, began to clean the music maker. The brush hit against his pink nose and tickled it so that he had to laugh.

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled the bunny. "This is a tickle brush as well as a dusting brush! It tickles me and makes me laugh!" Again he brushed his pink nose with the feathers and laughed. Then he thought of something. Skipping out into the kitchen he held the tickle brush under Nurse Jane's nose.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Sept. 24.—All officers and chairmen of the various sections of the La Crescenta Valley Woman's club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Turk, president. Much business was discussed and definite plans laid for the coming club year. The club will meet on the first and second Wednesdays of each month and until such time as they may have their own clubhouse the meetings will be held at the homes of the members as the auditorium of the La Crescenta school is at present being used for a class room.

The new membership cards were on view, the new rule of the club being that only members may attend the business meetings held on the first Wednesday of the month and only admitted by card. Visitors will be welcomed at the social meetings when a program will be given under the direction of Mrs. E. Armstrong of the program committee. At each business meeting there will be a cooked food sale under the care of Mrs. E. Farmer.

The following are curators of the new sections created in the La Crescenta Valley Woman's club since joining the federation: American Citizenship, Mrs. W. Singleton; music, Mrs. Q. R. MacDonald; drama, Mrs. Jessie Hansen; building committee, Mrs. Harvey Bissell; chairman, home economics, Mrs. H. Merritt; parliamentary law, Mrs. Fred Pinkus; travel section, no curator at present, literature not yet appointed; federation section, Mrs. Howard Reynolds, also chairman of the courtesy department; press and historian, Mrs. Mary B. Darrow; philanthropy among the American citizens, Mrs. F. Tillary; among the Mexican citizens, Mrs. H. Slutman; community service, Mrs. Louise Erwin; decorations, Mrs. Fred Kimball; ways and means, Mrs. W. Sullivan; calling, Mrs. A. W. Brown; emergency, Mrs. Anna Aiken.

The first meeting of the club to be held October 8 will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Turk, and will be opened promptly at 2:30 p. m. Foods will be on sale at this time. Those meeting with Mrs. Turk yesterday afternoon were Mesdames A. W. Brown, H. Bissell, J. Hansen, A. B. Cochran, F. Pinkus, A. Aiken, W. Singleton, M. Collins, W. Sullivan, R. Newton, R. Q. MacDonald, E. Farmer, C. Phillips, E. Armstrong, H. Reynolds, H. Slutman, L. Erwin, H. Merritt, F. Tillary, J. Martin, and Mary B. Darrow.

Harry Peters of Brown street has left for a six months' trip to England, where he was called by business affairs. Mr. Peters expects to return to La Crescenta where he will make his permanent home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Creeth are home again, after a delightful trip and vacation spent at Forest Home.

Mrs. C. Reiger of East Montrose avenue, who has been seriously ill for a time, is now on the convalescent list.

Mrs. Sherb, one of the charter members of the La Crescenta Valley Woman's club, is very ill at her home on Michigan avenue. Mrs. Sherb broke her hip about a year ago and was apparently recovering from the nervous shock when she collapsed at her home. So little hope is held for her recovery that her family has been sent for.

The Girl Scouts have resumed active work again under the able guidance of Mrs. Jessie Hansen, who organized the La Crescenta Girl Scouts, of whom there are now two patrols, and more applicants waiting to form a third patrol. However, this can not be accomplished until Scout Captain Hansen has an assistant. If there is any one in the valley who has had experience in Scout work they are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Hansen at her home, 166 East Piedmont street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Craig and sons, Dale, Wesley and Billy, have returned from an auto trip up the coast.

On Friday night the Service League of the La Crescenta Community church will hold a social in the basement of the church on West Montrose avenue at 7:30 o'clock. Every one is invited and requested to bring some useful article for the kitchen of the church. Ice cream and cake will be served the guests and an enjoyable evening spent in music and games. Rev. Kelso states the attendance at all services is picking up since the vacation period is ended and asks that all who have not yet returned to their

City Gains Publicity At Landing of Flyers

Glendale's part in welcoming home the round-the-world fliers was carried out in a most creditable manner and the city received much benefit in the way of advertising before 100,000 spectators who gathered at Clover Field yesterday afternoon, according to reports made to directors of the local Chamber of Commerce last night. Secretary Howard I. Wood stated that the huge truck load of Glendale flowers was the last to arrive on the field, but the truck, driven by George Lyons, was ushered directly in front of the grandstand and due to the arrangement of the display of flowers and the signs on the side of the truck it was clearly visible to the entire crowd. Glendale was the only city with such a display, it was stated.

In addition to a beautiful truck load of flowers Glendale gained another honor when Dr. T. C. Young, in his five-passenger plane, swooped down upon the field, landed shortly after the aviators and while the loud speaker announced the fact, presented the heroes with a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses. Dr. Young gave the fliers a farewell when they left Clover Field in March and his was the only plane landing near them yesterday afternoon.

Laurence H. Grady, formerly a chamber of commerce worker in Oakland, was introduced to the directors by Secretary Wood as his assistant. A letter of recommendation from the Oakland chamber of commerce was read to the directors. Mr. Grady will have charge of membership work here.

Several of the directors planned to attend the luncheon given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce this afternoon in the city, when directors from all over the south were scheduled to be present.

The board expressed its hearty thanks to Sam Rich who donated a truck for use in conveying the flowers to the reception of the world fliers.

The Board of Education last night authorized Superintendent Richardson D. White of city schools to attend the annual superintendents' convention, meeting this year at the Hotel Fairmont, San Francisco, September 29 to October 3. Mr. White will leave for the northern city Sunday night. The meeting was held at the offices of the board, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard, D. J. Hibben presiding in the absence of Mrs. A. A. Barton, president.

John T. Cate, business manager, reported on a suit solution for laying the dust on the school playgrounds. The matter was laid over for further consideration. Permission was granted the Community Service orchestra to practice Tuesday nights in the Glendale Intermediate school auditorium.

Mr. White read letters from Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric officials, promising to investigate the crossings in the Lake street district and place wig-wags there if found dangerous. R. E. Tucker, director of municipal playgrounds, rendered a written report on summer playground activities, account of which appears elsewhere in today's issue of The Glendale Evening News.

church duties make an effort to do so. A cordial invitation is also extended to all newcomers in the valley to attend the services held in the Community church if they have no other church home.

All officers of the Parent-Teacher associations are requested to meet at the home of the president, Mrs. C. W. Angier, on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Any mother who is interested in the Parent-Teacher association work is also requested to be present as the work for the coming year will be outlined.

A number of music lovers from the La Crescenta valley attended the recital given by Wesley Kuhnle last evening in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, among them being Mrs. Montague Cleeves, Mrs. George Wellington, Mrs. F. Arnold, Miss Arnold, T. Darrow.

Fall Opening Sale To Offer Bargains

An announcement of great interest to Glendale men who intend buying a new suit for fall and winter is the event which is being staged by Paul Rom, master tailor, 202 West Broadway. Mr. Rom states that his "fall opening sale" will be especially attractive as he is making a concerted effort and is specializing his regular $55 suits or overcoats for $33.50, an "honest to goodness" special in every sense of the word. The fall opening sale will last only three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and every garment will be superbly tailored by experts, perfect fit, painstaking workmanship and absolute satisfaction guaranteed, he states.

Great variety of the complete line of fabrics offered gives the young man or the middle aged man every possible scope; there's an endless assortment of serges, tweeds, choice worsteds and mixed silk novelties. Mr. Rom says there are many men who never have been entirely satisfied with their tailoring. To these men, he adds, "make one visit to my store and I can show you in a few minutes why my garments have pleased so many men of Glendale and given the utmost in satisfaction." Mr. Rom is one of Glendale's pioneer tailors and as the city grew so did the tailoring establishment of Mr. Rom. He can count scores of Glendale's prominent people as his customers.

Dr. T. C. Young Makes Plea to Aid Airport

C. Young, local flyer, and one of the interested parties in the undertaking.

Asks for Action
Dr. Young asked the Chamber of Commerce to take some action, if possible, to have the electric wires running to pumping plants near the landing field placed underground in order that the hazard now facing aviators when landing might be overcome. He stated that the city agreed not to place any obstacle near the field when the company of men took over the grounds, but that the placing of the wires there had set up an obstacle which would tend to discourage planes landing because of the danger, Dr. Young said that a year ago, before the wires were placed there, nineteen ships were stationed at the port at different times, and construction of ships was being carried on in amounts up to thousands of dollars.

Only Three Planes Left
Now there are only three planes there, and the loss to owners and to the navy department, due to accidents in landing, has run into large figures. An accident befell a navy ship while landing some time ago, and the commander at the San Diego naval base expressed regret that such a hazard should be allowed to stand, Dr. Young stated.

With the completion of the "round-the-world flight yesterday at Santa Monica and the numerous uses airplanes have been put to of late, it can be seen that aviation is coming into its own, Dr. Young stated, and the local field should be retained in the best possible condition.

the greatest comfort and space in small rooms, but she will take up the management of the house.

She will tell women how to buy so as to get the most for their money, and how to arrange a working schedule which will materially cut down the drains on the family pocket-book.

Then, too, this is a talk which will be helpful to the young bride who has as yet not assumed the sterner responsibilities of running a home, not to mention the older women, who for years have done everything pertaining to their housework in exactly the same way as they began.

Aid to Housekeepers
In these days of high speed and efficiency there are so many more up-to-date methods of accomplishing that work, that every housekeeper will find herself well repaid for the time spent at these lectures.

In addition to her instructive lessons on the art and science of home-building, Mrs. Chase gives one of the most scientific cooking courses given in any city of the United States. Complete menus are worked out and served each day of the week. Every detail of planning a meal, mixing the raw food materials, cooking, and finally the serving, will be explained by Mrs. Chase as she proceeds with the actual work. The latest labor-saving devices will be used and the most modern culinary equipment demonstrated.

Admission Free
Remember, Mrs. Chase comes here under the direction of The Glendale Evening News and at its expense. No coupons, admission fee, advance reservations or special invitation of any kind is required to attend her lectures and cooking classes.

The Glendale Evening News is convinced that the women of this city desire to be as progressive and abreast of the times in their housekeeping as they are in their club and political work, and that they will be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to learn from an expert in home economics, the "little things" which go far in making a real home.

Rev. Edmonds Speaker At Meeting Tonight

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, is to speak at the prayer meeting tonight on "Consecration." The prayer meetings are to be featured during the coming year and a record attendance is expected tonight. There will be vocal music by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts and after the service there will be an informal social hour.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Caught by a policeman in the act of "jimmying" the rear door of a downtown jewelry store here today, an unidentified burglar was shot and killed. Policeman R. Z. Miller said he killed the man after he refused to throw up his hands when Miller found him at the store door.

While two persons were being treated here today for probably fatal injuries and twenty-six for minor cuts, officials of the Pacific Electric Co. launched an investigation to fix responsibility for an open switch said to have caused a crash last night between a train and a locomotive at Wilmington in which the twenty-eight persons were hurt. The train, in which the injured persons were riding, was returning from Catalina island terminal, plunging into a switch engine.

Ernest E. Fricke of Los Angeles and Mrs. Christine Willsey of Albany, N. Y., were the two most severely injured.

William Mulholland, builder of the Los Angeles aqueduct, today is wearing a gold emblem which bespeaks his thirty years as chief engineer of water works.

Margie Dubril has been held to answer on a charge of firing the Burbank jail. She burned a hole in the door, turned the lock and led officers a merry chase, it was revealed in Judge Baird's court.

Twenty-five persons were injured when a Pacific Electric car returning Catalina Island excursionists last night was derailed in Wilmington.

Many Glendale commuters last evening saw fire destroy the Tanyan pharmacy on Sunset boulevard, the blaze originating with an explosion of chemicals.

Friends will be glad to hear that there has recently been organized, under the leadership of Irving A. Steinel, a sanitarium orchestra consisting of eight pieces at the present time, to which others will be added. As considerable talent has been displayed along musical lines, we believe this will fill a long-felt need in furnishing entertainment for guests and other members of the sanitarium family.

Among the recent arrivals at the sanitarium are registered Mrs. E. L. Cobb, Pasadena; Mrs. R. E. Hanks, Twin Falls, Idaho; Mrs. J. W. Reed, Delano.

Last night Chaplain R. W. Munson gave an interesting talk on his work in the Malaysian mission field. These talks are always enjoyed by guests, giving them an insight into the work that is being carried on.

Knights of Pythias Celebrate Victory

Glendale lodge of Knights of Pythias, meeting last night in the lodge hall on South Brand boulevard, held a jollification over the recent victory of their drill team over the Alhambra team, and of the banquet the losing lodge is to serve for the Glendale Knights. The contest was held in Pasadena. During the business session last night, in charge of Chancellor Commander S. E. Wright, E. M. Meizer was recommended for lodge deputy. Sam Berman spoke of his recent trip east, and Hal Leedom told of the Boy Scouts' troop the lodge sponsors. Claude Berger and Emil Fram were named on a special membership committee to survey the city and inaugurate a drive for members.
